SHENANGO POTTERY EMPLOYES GIVE AID

Campaign May Be Extended To Wednesday—Workers Out To Pass Goal

Somebody has apparently slipped a little bad gas in the Third Community Chest Drive machine, or perhaps one of the spark plugs is fouled. Whatever the cause, the engine seems to be missing and the total reported at today's meeting, $7,503, brings the grand total to only $73,712, or $28,470 less than the quota set, $102,182.

There seems to be no let-up in the enthusiasm, 226 being present today, nor is it because the workers are not making the calls, for the totals reported today represent 2,861 subscribers. Steady progress

Took Poison While Temporarily Deranged From Effects Of Long Illness

Mrs. Anna Paal, aged 33, wife of John Paal of 1221 East Washington street, died at her home this morning as the result of taking poison tablets a little over a week ago.

As the result of her suffering there were times when she was not responsible for what she did and it was during one of these spells that the poison was taken. Hold Negro For Questioning In Strange Slaying Of Beulah Pervis

GIRL LAST SEEN WITH FOUR MEN

Telegraph Operator Tells Of Muffled Sounds From Traction Station

By PAUL E. BROKAW
International News Service Staff Correspondent
CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 25.—While Louis Williams, negro, was being held for questioning in connection with the death of Beulah Purvis, 19-year-old "hired girl" of Lawrenceburg, Ind., county authorities today turned the spotlight of their search on a "river camp" near Valley Junction, Ohio.

The river camp, widely known as a rendezvous for midnight orgies, is where Miss Purvis was thought to have gone on Sunday night, Oct. 17—three days before her mutilated body was found—with two young men.

Seen With Four Men

Later she was said by county authorities to have left the camp with four young men from Hamilton, O. In this connection officers were also trying to establish the identity of an automobile seen underneath a bridge on the Valley Junction-Elizabethtown road early last Monday morning. The spotlight of the automobile was being played upon the muddy water, authorities declared a witness told them.

The negro being held for questioning was arrested by Deputy Sheriff James Loose of Harrison after he was said to have made conflicting statements concerning alleged appearances at Valley Junction recently.

Another bit of evidence included in the countless tips pouring into the offices of the investigators was obtained yesterday from R. S. Duckworth, telegraph operator of the B. & O. railroad at Valley Junction.

Duckworth told officers that he had heard a woman scream—then the sound "was suddenly muffled". He said it came from the traction station, about 150 feet away. "That was one night early last week", he added.

Aimee McPherson Will Not Take Witness Stand

Believe Counsel Will Keep Former Evangelist From Testifying

(International News Service)
LOS ANGELES, Oct. 25.—Aimee Semple McPherson will not appear as a witness at her own preliminary hearing on charges of conspiracy to obstruct justice, it was learned today.

Although the favorable psychological effect of Mrs. McPherson's personal appearance on the stand was said to be a strong point in favor of that move, defense attorneys pointed out that the evangelist's story of her kidnapping already had been introduced into the record through the reading by the prosecution of Mrs. McPherson's testimony before the grand jury.

To place her on the stand at this time would play her into the hands of the prosecution for a terrific cross-examination, it was pointed out.

Girls Will Be Required To Care For Infant One Day Each Week

By GENE HOFFMAN
International News Service Staff Correspondent
CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—Co-eds at Lake Forest college will vote today on whether they will adopt from Lake Bluff orphanage a bouncing year-old baby boy as a practical aid in their study of home economics.

"Let theorizing on the proper care of infants be done by spinsters and maiden aunts. We want first hand information," say the girls.

There are ten girls in the home economics class. They range in age from 18 to 20. Miss Christine Payne, their teacher, predicts the vote will be unanimous in favor of adopting the baby.

Miss Payne said the idea was popular not only among the girls of her class, but that nearly all the other co-eds favored the experiment.

Practical Application.

Manufactures Score Five-Day Week Plan

(International News Service)
NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Five days a week in the nation's industries as advocated by Henry Ford meets with strenuous objection on the part of 50 leading manufacturers, according to a statement made public today by the National Association of Manufacturers.

Summarized, the specific objections registered are:

"Adoption of the five-day plan in industry generally would greatly increase the cost of living.

"It would increase wages generally by more than 15 per cent and decrease production.

"It would make us more vulnerable to the economic onslaughts of Europe, now working as hard as she can to overcome our lead."

Expressions condemning the five-day week plan came from such manufacturers as W. L. Clause, Pittsburgh Plate Glass company; A. L. Humphrey, Westinghouse Air Brake company, and George L. Markland, Jr., Philadelphia Gear Works company and Paul T. Norton of Columbus, O.

Renew Efforts To Locate More Of Bank Money

Pittsburgh Detectives Unearth $50,000 As Part Of Money Held By Knapp

START SEARCH OF BANK VAULTS

Knapp Denies Knowledge Of How Money Was Hidden In Vandegrift

(International News Service)
PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—Already in possession of $50,000 of the $320,000 which disappared in the Brotherhood Savings and Trust company swindle, detectives today hoped to recover the remainder in a downtown vault.

The $50,000 was dug up late Saturday by detectives in the rear of a garage on the property of Edward Goodfellow with whom Charles E. Knapp who disappeared with the $320,000 given him for bonds he never produced, is known to have conversed over the telephone on the day following Knapp's disappearance. Knapp phoned from Vandergrift, Pa., detectives determined.

Claims Innocence.

Despite circumstances surrounding the recovery of the money, Goodfellow maintained he did not know the money was buried on his property and insisted he knew nothing about the swindle. Goodfellow and his wife are held as accessories in the alleged theft.

Knapp, too, stuck by his original story that he was robbed of the money a few hours after Charles A. McCrady, head of the Brotherhood bank, turned it over to him. He professed ignorance of the fact that a part of the money was buried on Goodfellow's property.

Both Knapp and Goodfellow were to be put through another severe grilling today in an effort to learn who buried the money. Knapp and his wife also were to be given a hearing today on three charges in connection with the disappearance of the money.

Illinois Man Kills Five Of Family And Self

Only Two Members Of Prominent Illinois Family Escape Death in Tragedy

MAN BELIEVED SUDDENLY INSANE

Son Returns Home To Find Mother, Father, Two Sisters And Two Granddaughters Dead

(International News Service)
MARION, Ill., Oct. 25.—The home of W. O. Potter until two days ago the dwelling place of a happy, carefree family, was today a veritable morgue. Six caskets containing the bodies of six members of the Potter family lined the drawing room, side by side.

Five of the family had been murdered by the head of the house who then committed suicide. He was W. O. Potter former United States district attorney and one of the most prominent citizens in Central Illinois.

Sudden Fit of Insanity.

A sudden fit of insanity probably caused by worry over financial matters, a coroner's jury found was the cause of the tragedy. Only two members of the family who happened to be away from home at the time remain alive.

Those killed were Potter's wife, two daughters and two granddaughters. One daughter Mrs. Lucille Potter White wife of Dr. Gilbert White of Miami, Fla., and her two baby daughters both of whom were slain were visiting the Potters.

After crushing in the heads of the victims with a piece of iron, Potter went to the rear of the house and drowned himself in a cistern. The tragedy is believed to have occurred about midnight Saturday.

Morris Potter, 26 a son, found the bodies when he returned from a trip early yesterday. The victims apparently were slain as they slept.

Authorities Believe His Arrest Will Result In Editor's Murder Being Cleared Up

McDERMOTT TAKEN BY OFFICERS SUNDAY

Alleged "Key Man" Is Surrendered To Authorities By His Brothers

(International News Service)
CANTON, O., Oct. 25.—Startling disclosures in the murder of Don R. Mellett, crusading publisher of the Canton Daily News, who was assassinated three months ago, were expected to be made to Prosecutor C. B. McClintock and Detective Ora B. Slater today by Patrick Eugene McDermott, alleged "key man" in the case.

McDermott was in county jail here today following a nationwide search for him lasting 90 days. He was surrendered yesterday at Twin Rocks, Pa., by his two brothers as the result of a carefully laid plan prepared by Slater. It is believed that the famous Cincinnati detective and the prosecutor, in a four-hour conference with McDermott's brothers preceding his surrender, made an agreement not to seek the death penalty for McDermott, provided he would testify against Louis Mazer and Ben Rudner, the other two men under indictment for the murder.

Special Train Carrying Rumanian Queen Leaves For West Point, Albany And Buffalo

By DAVID P. SENTNER,
International News Service Staff Correspondent
NEW YORK, Oct. 25. — The special train carrying Queen Marie of Rumania, her son, Prince Nicholas, and her daughter, Princess Ileana, left the Grand Central terminal this morning enroute for West Point, Albany, Buffalo, Chicago and the Pacific coast.

Only a handful of the curious were on hand to get a glimpse of the queen, and they were disappointed, as she was asleep when the train pulled out. Thus the queen bade farewell to New York, where she landed a week ago, after a continuous round of public and private functions.

Arthur Mometer

The coal man is gleeful, the prices are up, and his business is rosy appearing, and loud on the air of a chill winter day, you can hear him exultantly cheering. For this is the time when the prices go up, and in order that you understand, they gravely will quote you a chromo like this, "its the law of supply and demand." But whether or not this is true of the case, the prices are up just the same, and the lads who purvey us our winter supply are in a most elegant game. Three weeks ago coal could be purchased for five, and today its up two and a half, and the average fellow is sore as can be, the coal prices give him no laugh. For he looks at his cellar and thinks of the price, and promptly gets awfully sore, for his bankroll is in for a slap on the chin, its cold, weather's just thirty-four.

JEWEL THIEVES IN TOLEDO GET $100,000 HAUL

Thieves Trail Diamond Salesman And Switch Baggage Checks

(International News Service)

TOLEDO, O., Oct. 25.—A trunk containing $100,000 worth of diamonds was looted of its contents here early this morning by three thieves, according to the owner, Jack Kloville, a diamond broker of New York City.

Kloville had checked the trunk at Buffalo yesterday for Toledo, he claims. When he called at the union station baggage room for it he was informed that it had disappeared.

Later the management of the hotel where Kloville was stopping found the empty trunk in one of its rooms. This room had been assigned to "John Jones, Harry and George Jones of Duluth". They had fled.

Police say that the thieves had trailed Kloville and had switched baggage checks in such a manner as to give them possession of it.

Kloville, who is connected with the firm of Kloville Brothers, 195 Broadway, declared the gems were insured.

Mayor To Name Hallowe'en Parade Leaders This Week

Announcement of marshals, judges and other persons, who will have something to do with the Community Hallowe'en celebration to be held Monday, November 1, will be made early this week by Mayor William H. Dunlap, who is head of the movement to put on the celebration.

With three bands and an orchestra donated for the occasion and also the use of the fine new brick garage of Kenkinger & Ludwig on the former glass plant site on West Washington street, opposite the Pennsylvania railroad station, for the dance of the mummers, there is only the small sum of $100 and a large number of prizes needed.

Funds in the hands of H. K. Bell, secretary-treasurer now total $34.59. There are also quite a number of prizes promised by merchants of the city through the efforts of P. L. Hogue. Still more funds and also prizes are needed, as it is desired that this celebration be a real community effort with many mummers getting prizes and many merchants and people of the city joining in to make the event a success.

McDERMOTT, LONG SOUGHT IN CASE, NOW IN CUSTODY

nance Pat's defense, and a promise exacted by them from Slater to give Pat a "square deal" were regarded as certain indications here that some sort of deal had been entered into whereby McDermott will "tell all he knows" about the killing of Mellett.

McDermott, it was learned today, spent most of the time since the nationwide search was inaugurated for him soon after Mellett was slain hiding in an apartment in Cleveland. He did not work, but maintained a servant and an automobile, it is said, and apparently was well supplied with funds.

He was lured into custody by means of a message sent to him by his brothers, to the effect that his aged mother, who is ill, wanted to see him. That McDermott was not "in" on the plan of members of his family to "turn him up" was indicated by his greeting to the officers when they were brought into his presence at Twin Rocks.

"You've double-crossed me", shouted McDermott to his brothers.

Slater and McClintock, although they would disclose no details of information already revealed to them during the long automobile ride from Twin Rocks to Canton yesterday by McDermott, or of facts they expected to elicit from him during a grilling today, expressed the confident belief that a full revelation of all angles of the plot to assassinate Mellett as a result of his campaign against Canton's vice ring would come to light.

Don R. Mellett, 32, was shot early on the morning of July 16 by gunmen as he was putting his automobile in his garage. In the Canton News he had waged an unrelenting campaign against the operations of an alleged vice ring in the city and had been several times threatened by denizens of the "jungle", the underworld district.

COOLIDGE URGES VOTERS RE-ELECT SENATOR BUTLER

chusetts. In a letter to the chairman of the Republican State Committee in Massachusetts, Mr. Coolidge has pinned an administration medal on Butler and urged his re-election.

"In the senate," wrote the President, "he holds a place which no one else could command for Massachusetts, admired for his wisdom and respected for his integrity. He has been a benefactor to his state and nation. I know how able and conscientious he is. In his rapidly taking place as a great senator I have an increasing pride in knowing he is from my state."

Letter Creates Furore

The President's letter, the only one of its kind during the campaign, created a political furore here. It was hailed at once by the Democrats as an indication that the Republican situation in Massachusetts is so serious as to demand the aid of so powerful an instrument as a specific endorsement. Butler is opposed by ex-senator David I. Walsh, Democrat, and the contest is regarded by leaders of both parties as being exceedingly close.

If Butler, the President's most intimate political adviser, is defeated a week from Tuesday the verdict will be immediately hailed by the Democrats as a repudiation of Mr. Coolidge in his own state. The effect on Mr. Coolidge's chances of renomination in 1928 would be well nigh incalculable. That is admitted by leaders of both parties.

Town Talk

Many people in New Castle claim that if the Hallowe'en pranks of boys are going to continue to grow worse, there should be a move to stop all of them. "Too many mean acts are being done this year and I don't think that the boys should be allowed to get away with it", said a North Hill lady today, "and it cannot be put onto the little tots who do not know any better. This year most all of the pranks are done by larger boys. I would say that most of them came from high school. It is no joke when someone breaks milk bottles on your porch, and even throw them at you if you don't stay in the house. Why should a back porch door be opened and victuals be taken? If that is not robbery, what is? Last night some boys put soap marks all over Mr. ———'s car, and you know how hard that is to get off."

Police officers of this city sometimes are called upon to perform duties that are entirely foreign to their regular line of duty and very often they perform this duty in an extremely satisfactory manner.

One night recently, Officer James found an excited woman rushing about Washington street about 3 o'clock in the morning seeking a drugstore or physician.

She stated that a woman of her household had just been severely bitten three times on the hand by a large rat, as she lay sleeping in her bed and that the services of a physician or a druggist were needed at once.

Officer James took her to the police station, where Night Sergeant Grover C. Syling finally succeeded in getting in touch with a physician and explained the situation to him. The physician stated that it was not necessary for him to go, but told the sergeant what to do with certain medicines that he had in the first aid kit at the police station.

This the sergeant did and apparently his services as a substitute for a physician were all to the good, as no report has yet been received of any serious after effects from the wounds on the woman's hand.

Chief Justice Taft Rules In Favor Of Power Of President

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—The power of the president to remove a federal officer without the consent of the Senate was sustained by the Supreme court today, thus ending a dispute as to constitutional rights that has waged between the legislative and executive branches of the government for half a century.

The decision was handed down in the case on Frank S. Myers, now deceased, former postmaster at Portland, Oregon. Myers was appointed by President Wilson in 1917, and removed from office three years later, without the consent of the Senate. Because his appointment had to be confirmed by the Senate, his heirs contended, in a suit for back pay, that his removal without the Senate's consent was not constitutional.

Chief Justice Taft delivered the opinion.

Christian Laymen To Conduct Campaign

Personal Workers From The Various Churches To Visit Homes Every Evening This Week

About 25 business men representing the Christian Laymen's Association of Pittsburgh, Pa., occupied pulpits in many of the churches throughout this city Sunday morning.

The purpose of their visit to New Castle was to give a detailed account of their work and to prepare the workers who are engaged in the personal evangelistic campaign which will be conducted every evening this week under the supervision of Dr. Arthur Purkiss of the Pittsburgh Laymen's Association.

The campaign has been well planned and much interest has been created among the religious workers of the city.

Supper will be served each evening at 6:30 in the following churches: This evening in the Central Presbyterian, Tuesday evening in the First Methodist, Wednesday evening in the First Baptist, Thursday evening in the Y. M. C. A. and Friday evening at the First Christian.

Following the supper a short time will be spent in prayer and helpful hints about the work. The workers from each church will then get together in designated rooms, receive the prospect cards and then go out two by two to make the calls. In some cases where it is not convenient to call in the evening the calls may be made the next day, any time before next supper.

the volume of theory," Miss Payne explained. "Incidentally, I think the fact our girls consider such a serious plan is a perfect slap at the recent loose charges of Wilfred O. Cross, former University of Illinois student, concerning the morals of college girls."

The girls plan to bring the baby to college and keep it in the girls' dormitory. Each student, under the present plan, will be charged with taking care of the child for one day. Demonstrations will be given in the class room of the various acts of caring for an infant.

Each girl on her day as "mother" or "nursemaid", must do all the work alone. This will include airing the child in a perambulator about the campus and walking the floor at night, if necessary.

"A remarkable thing about it all," said Miss Payne, "is the fact that the co-eds, to a girl, want a boy. So a boy it will be."

Ingrown Nail

Turns Right Out Itself

"Outgro" is a harmless antiseptic manufactured for chiropodists. However, anyone can buy from the drug store a tiny bottle containing directions.

A few drops of "Outgro" in the crevice of the ingrowing nail reduces inflammation and pain and so toughens the tender, sensitive skin underneath the toe nail, that it can not penetrate the flesh, and the nail turns naturally outward almost over night.

DAME NATURE'S NOTABLE YEAR

AND now an earthquake. In San Francisco, too, of all places—bringing back vivid memories of 1906.

Apparently, there was a slip along the old fault, but the shocks did not amount to much this time. It was the second visitation this year. The one last year was a serious affair—and so on, back twenty years, to the one that made a holocaust of San Francisco.

Hurricanes in the Southeast, floods in various and sundry places, one of the craziest summers that has been witnessed in these parts in many years—on the whole, Dame Nature has made quite a year of it, and, if it would do any good, we might all be glad that 1927 is just around the corner.

PROBLEM OF THE PEDESTRIAN

SO LONG as road builders remain blind to the obvious need of footpaths along country highways the slaughter of pedestrians in the open country will continue and probably increase. Pathless highways are to the open country what busy street intersections are to the city.

Those who walk on traveled thoroughfares, especially at night, take their lives in their hands, though both pedestrian and motorist exercise extreme care. The weaving automobiles and trucks are traps for unfortunate foot travelers. One driver distracted by other vehicles or blinded by the glare of headlights may mean death for one or several pedestrians.

It is easy enough to say motor highways are no place for persons on foot. Danger lurks where nature's beauties formerly lured the rambling hiker.

Has public enthusiasm for motor roads blinded the state to the rights and welfare of the pedestrian? Improved highways are essential to modern transportation, but safety for pedestrians is quite as vital.

At comparatively small cost footpaths could be built along every heavily traveled highway and the expenditure of public funds for this purpose would meet with even more widespread approval from the motorist than from the foot traveler himself.

"JUST PLAIN, EVERYDAY COMMON SENSE"

SPEAKING in Cleveland of the success of the Coolidge administration, Assistant Secretary of War MacNider said that the president had the immense advantage of being in touch with the feelings and the aspirations of the average American.

When the head of the nation made a decision on an important matter the man in the street found himself saying, "that's just what I would have done."

What everybody does not realize is that Mr. Coolidge has had a lifetime of training to fit him for his present position. In his township and county, as governor of his state and as the presiding officer of the senate he had opportunities for learning the art of legislating and governing. And to his integrity, ability and experience he has added what Secretary MacNider calls "just plain, everyday, American common sense." If you were fortunate enough to have an estate he would be the kind of a man you would like to have manage it.

That in a nutshell—explains the success with which Calvin Coolidge has met in managing the big business we call the United States government.

Song writers have a lot to account for. It was one of them that coined the expression "love nest."

Some of the so-called million dollar moving pictures would be more interesting if they merely photographed the million dollars.

The orator always pictures the public as the biggest member, the cartoonist the smallest at the table. Which is closest to the truth?

Uncle Sam leads the world as a letter writer, according to a post office statistician. He is also some watchful waiter and money lender, but doesn't brag about it.

In spite of the high percentage of scandal stories concerning married life, alimony clubs, and so on, the vast majority of us manage to pay for the old home, care for and educate the children and keep out of the divorce courts.

Hints and Dints

Sun sets tonight 5:06. Sun rises tomorrow 6:23.

There is always plenty of room at the top, but you will find no parking space for a quitter.

Now we are informed that the intelligent in America are in danger of being engulfed by the ignorant. The intelligent acquire education and have small families. The ignorant, and majority, have no time for education and have large families. Figure it out other ways if you want to.

Surely you are not going to let the Community Chest drive fail this year. One of the worst things that can happen to a city is to have failures of civic efforts. The outside world hears it and it does a lot of harm. Cities that put things over with a bang are the ones people point with pride to. If you have not contributed help the people who have worked hard every day for a week to put it over. They also contributed.

There is one time when a man cannot talk dignified and that is when he is eating corn off the cob.

With hurricanes in Florida and earthquakes in California, it looks as if right here would be about the safest place to spend the winter—and far cheaper also.

Fire Chief Lynn and several of his men will be in attendance at the community dinner on Thursday night of this week at the Consistory Cathedral. He and his men will be there to help make things safe with the big crowd. There never was such co-operation in New Castle as there is now. There are still a few bores' nests that need attention.

What has become of those good, old-fashioned New Castle people who used to exclaim "Rats" when something disgusted them?

A woman-hating bachelor told us yesterday that an old maid—whatever that may be—usually wants it known that she is such from choice.

There are people who think tickets to the community dinner are being kept from them. They cannot realize that they are left because they did not be at home. There are tickets for the music and speeches in the auditorium left yet, and no doubt there will be complaint after they are all sold. You can get 'em at The News office and several other places.

Two New Castle young women met on Washington street yesterday. "What were you doing this summer?" asked the first one. "Oh", replied her friend, "I have been in father's office. What are you doing?" "I am not working either", she replied.

Women in the South have been asked to take off their silk undies and wear cotton ones to help the sale of cotton. So they still wear undies in the South?

OCTOBER

All the trees are decked in colors,
Red and crimson, golden crowned,
With the squirrels busy nutting
In the woodlands all around;
And the frost is on the meadows
In the early morning clear,
And we're glad because we're living
For October now is here.

June may bring her buds and roses—
Beauties we may not despise,
But she cannot hope to rival
Old October's bright blue skies.
Now it is that vines and orchards
Yield their fruits with bount'ous hand,
And the goldenrod blooms brightly
Ev'rywhere throughout the land.

Now the chestnut burrs are bursting
With their gorgeous nuts well browned,
And the scraggy shellbark hick'ry
Nuts come tumbling to the ground.
So it's now we're glad we're living
If our life reflects what's true,
Like the haze o'er distant mountains
Mirrors skies of tender blue.
—S. S. Myers.

Don't put off saying nice things about people until they are dead. Most live ones like to hear nice things about themselves.

A New York pretzel baker was arrested for tossing a platter of corned-beef-and at a policeman who was interfering with his domestic squabble. He was paroled by the judge because the people could not get along without his pretzels. Wonder how they eat 'em there?

A bill is to be introduced in the next Illinois legislature to repeal the separate maintenance law. A judge says, "Too many gold diggers are getting the money without the man". A female and a crooked lawyer can make it mighty unpleasant for a man who isn't half as guilty as the woman in many cases.

A lot of parking questions can be solved by business men themselves if they will decide not to park their own cars for hours in the down town streets. Most of them do not park the car in front of their own place of business but pick out a spot in front of some other fellow's place nearby.

If that Roumanian queen is here to take money back with her and to make money out of broadcasting she should be made to pay income tax on some of the easy picking she gets in this country. Just like European prize fighters, grand opera singers and others.

There are still a few tickets for the auditorium part of the community dinner on Thursday night of this week. There is a mighty good reason for charging 50 cents for them. You will get several dollars worth at this meeting and by all means get your tickets right away. You can get them at the News office, Paisley's, Love & Megown's, McKinley & Frantz, Y. W. C. A.

DAVID JAMESON, CITIZEN

Last Saturday the New Castle News carried the announcement that David Jameson, one of the prominent citizens of New Castle, had given $600,000 for the building of a new hospital in that city. In his statement Mr. Jameson referred to the Butler County Memorial hospital with the inference that he has in mind a similar institution for his home city. The new hospital at New Castle will be the successor of the Shenango Valley hospital. Twelve trustees for the new hospital were named by Mr. Jameson, of whom nine are the present board of the Shenango Valley hospital.

For many years David Jameson has been one of the leading and influential citizens of New Castle. During his entire life he has been found in the forefront of every movement tending to the betterment of conditions in his home community. His magnificent gift is made after mature thought and much deliberation.

New Castle is fortunate indeed in having such a high-minded citizen as Mr. Jameson. As the shadows of his life lengthen, facing in due time the Great Adventure, he has risen to great heights. Only a few people of fortune ever realize the debt they owe to humanity. Mr. Jameson is one of these.

Some day there will probably be a marker in some cemetery marking the spot where the body of David Jameson lies. But David Jameson will be a living personality in New Castle and Lawrence county far beyond the earthly span of years of his life. In the days to come as suffering humanity lies on beds of pain in the new hospital countless thousands will sing songs of praise to his memory. All honor to David Jameson for what he has done for New Castle.

George Peabody, founder of the Peabody Institute of Music in Baltimore and the Peabody Institute in Massachusetts, and Johns Hopkins, founder of the Johns Hopkins University, Hospital and Medical school at Baltimore, are two outstanding men who lived solely for doing good in the world. And now, while his gift is not as large financially, yet in all truthfulness, David Jameson takes his place with these two and a number of other immortals, who by their gifts have enshrined their names upon the tablets of fame. Peabody and Hopkins established the institutions named after them while they were still in the flesh upon this earth, and now David Jameson has followed in their footsteps.

A close friend of Peabody in commenting on his gifts, received this interesting reply: "There are two memorials that will live forever. One is a university—for there will always be youth seeking instruction. The other is a hospital—for there will always be sick in need of care."

May David Jameson be permitted to live to see the new hospital built and functioning. His many friends would be pleased to have his earthly eyes see and his big heart feel the untold good he has done for his home community. But David Jameson will still be living when all who have read this tribute to him have passed on before.—Butler County Record.

Since Europe had to deal with a "cold-blooded Shylock" she is lucky to find such a Shylock as Uncle Sam who lends to foreign enterprises a great deal more than he lends to develop his own country.

CHOICE

I would not say that every rose is fair,
For in my garden I have found this true;
I sometimes pass the one of brazen hue
To pluck the frailer bud I know is there;
I've looked on blossoms which I would not wear,
Roses, I think have habits, and they do
As men and women. In the throng a few
Possess some charm which makes us truly care.

So men in multitudes pass down the way,
All human, but each different in design,
And some I scorn for what they do or say,
And some I love and seek to make them mine.
On some strange fancy such a choice depends—
The mass moves on, a few are kept as friends.

W. Camerson Forbes, mentioned to succeed Gen. Leonard Wood as governor general of the Philippines, is a former incumbent of that important post. Mr. Forbes is a grandson of Ralph Waldo Emerson, was Harvard trained and on entering active life, chose banking and commerce as his callings. He was thus engaged when summoned, in 1904, by President Roosevelt to go to the Pacific dependency and join the commission which governed that new national acquisition. Arriving in Manila, Mr. Forbes became secretary of the commission, and also had special supervision of commerce and policing. For four years he thus served, and then became vice governor. Within a short time he became governor general and remained such until the advent of President Wilson in 1913, when a Democrat was put in his place.

PRINCE GUSTAF

Few members of royalty have visited America who left a better impression that did Crown Prince Gustaf Adolf of Sweden.

He stayed for a month.

He didn't let Broadway, Long Island or Palm Beach usurp him. He devoted his whole time to no "set" or clique.

He met people of many kinds. He roughed it in Yellowstone Park and rode down the Grand Canyon.

In all parts of the country people gained the same impression—that he was a real man.

During his stay he showed that he was really interested in understanding America and the American people. And he went away with probably a better idea of the life the average American lives than any other distinguished visitor who has stayed here an equal length of time.

As he sailed away for Hawaii, where he kept house in a cottage on the beach of Waikiki during his stay, he expressed the wish that the world could know more about us.

With this wish all Americans heartily concur.

America is a vast country with a thousand varied aspects. Unlike some foreign countries where all the people possess similar national characteristics, different sections of the United States present different qualities in their inhabitants.

The nation cannot be understood by visiting an eastern seaport or taking a hurried trip across the continent in a Pullman.

To understand it you have to understand the common people of different parts of the country. Their votes largely decide the important actions of the nation.

To understand the common people you have to meet them.

This is not easy for a distinguished foreign visitor. It requires effort and determination.

If he is not careful he is passed from one committee and dinner to another and ends by going home with as vague an idea of what the people are really like as if he had flown across the country in an airplane which did not land.

He meets the cosmopolites, whose traits are the traits of the world, rather than the representative Americans.

If all foreign visitors of high place went about gaining an understanding of our country as sincerely and as unassumingly as did this prince from Sweden, the world would understand us better than it does.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

A NEW CONTAINER.

New Castle steel men, and New Castle speculators in the steel stocks issued at the beginning of the century, have every reason to remember the capital stock issue of the American Tin Can Company. Incidentally, the buyers of that stock when it was first issued have also every reason to remember the two great rules of Wall Street, the first being that "those who know don't tell", the second, "those who tell don't know". The promoters of the American Tin Can Company did tell the truth. They said their company business would grow to great proportions, that there were a thousand and one commodities then being made, and a thousand and one commodities which would thereafter be made, which of necessity would have to be packed in tin containers made by the American Can Company.

It seemed very plausible—it was so plausible, that the public bought the stocks then at about 76 for the Preferred, and 26 for the Common. That same public saw the Preferred go to ten, and the Common go to practically nothing. Now look at the "dern thing!" Those who had faith, held on, and bought more, have mighty little reason to regret, and no reason whatever to call the promoters of the American Tin Can Company liars. Not only are there two thousand and two commodities packed in the products of the Company, but it is estimated that today there are more than fifty thousand varieties of containers made from tin by the company, in which are packed almost an equal variety of products.

It is now announced that within a comparatively short time, the golf player and the tennis player will be able to buy golf and tennis balls "by the can" instead of by the box. American Tin Can Company is now engaged in making such containers. Preserved in cans, golf and tennis balls can be sold at any time in perfect condition. The tennis ball deteriorates rapidly. Exposed to the air, it becomes soft and unsuitable for playing.

There is an air pressure of twenty pounds necessary to be maintained to keep the tennis ball in proper condition. This pressure will be held within the sealed tin cans. When the player hereafter buys a can of golf balls, he will know that the balls are in perfect condition. Golf balls do not deteriorate like tennis balls, but the enamel on the surface erodes with age. Sealed in cans, the golf ball will remain for a long time in the same condition in which it was placed there.

Both golf and tennis balls are expensive commodities. The real Scotchman playing the game considers it a calamity to have lost his ball. There is the story of the Scotchman who played three seasons with the same ball; but the average American is not so economical,—he desires a new ball for each day he plays; and there are some so reckless that in a tournament, they have been known to drive a new ball from each tee. The tin containers may not interest the latter individual, but they will the former, and will be particularly interesting to the dealer who has to carry golf and tennis balls over Winter.

Some of the Charter Members of the old New Castle Country Club who financed the nine hole course in the Becker and Elder Fields in Croton, may find some connection between golf balls and American Tin Can.

POEMS HOME — BY CHARLES HANSON TOWNE

"The House by the Side of the Road," By S. W. Foss.

Several readers of these little articles have written asking me if I would not include these lines in the series. I am happy to say that I can, with a good conscience. They are not poetry, perhaps, but they have that warm human appeal which gets hold of one. They belong to the homely verse of our time, and I venture to say there are thousands of scrap-books which contain them, as one might put away a rose leaf in memory of a certain golden day.

There are hermit souls that live withdrawn
In the peace of their self-content;
There are souls, like stars, that dwell apart
In a fellowless firmament.
There are pioneer souls that blaze their paths
Where the highways never ran—
But let me live by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

Let me live in a house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—
The men who are good and the men who are bad,
As good and as bad as I.
I would not sit in the scorner's seat,
Or hurl the cynic's ban—
Let me live in the house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

I see from my house by the side of the road,
By the side of the highway of life,
The men who press with the ardor of hope,
The men who faint with strife;
But I turn not away from their smiles nor their tears—
Both parts of an infinite plan—
Let me live in a house by the side of the road
And be a friend to man.

I know there are brook-gladdened meadows ahead,
And mountains of wearisome height;
And the road passes on through the long afternoon
And stretches away to the night.
But still I rejoice when the travelers rejoice,
And weep with the strangers that moan,
Nor live in my house by the side of the road,
Like a man who dwells alone.

Let me live in my house by the side of the road,
Where the race of men go by—
They are good, they are bad, they are weak, they are strong,
Wise, foolish—so am I.
Then why should I sit in the scorner's seat
Or hurl the cynic's ban?
Let me live in my house by the side of the road,
And be a friend to man.

ARLINGTON AVE. PAYMENT MADE

Should Paving Prove Defective City Cannot Complain Of Rough Surface

Council today voted a second payment of $13,469.13 to John B. Thorson Company for paving Arlington avenue, leaving a balance of $14,381.84 to be paid four months from October 22.

Arlington avenue was paved some time ago, but its surface is rough in sections, according to City Engineer Miller.

Before payment today was authorized Councilman Tyler asked of Chairman Burns:

"Would it not be advisable for Mr. Miller to show that the work has not been done according to specifications. It is not according to specifications and I do not believe it can be made so unless torn up."

"He can only certify yes or no", said Burns. "If it is not certified according to contract it will be impossible to collect one dollar of the assessment".

Bond for Quality

"I do not want to hold up payment, but I would feel mean if I voted to approve the job and it went bad. If the city can collect, in such an event, I am ready to vote for second payment", said Tyler.

"The contract is no different than any other contract", said City Solicitor White. "The only thing different is that it is not smooth. If the council accepts it the city will not be able to complain later about its smoothness."

Councilman Davies expressed views similar to Mr. Tyler. He said, also, that if the bond holds good for the job he would vote for payment.

TODAY'S RECEIPES

New England Corn Muffins—One level cupful cornmeal, three-fourths cup flour, three level teaspoons baking powder, one level teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup molasses or two tablespoons sugar, one cup milk, one egg, well beaten; one tablespoon melted butter. Sift together the cornmeal, flour, baking powder, sugar (if used) and salt. Mix thoroughly milk and molasses (if used). Add to dry ingredients slowly, then add egg and melted butter. Bake in muffin tins for twenty-five minutes. To hasten things when you have little time for preparing breakfast, sift the dry ingredients the night before and measure the molasses (if used), so that all you need to do in the morning is to measure the milk, beat the egg, while the shortening melts, mix thoroughly and pour into greased muffin pans to bake.

Eggs a l'espagnol—Chop fine two small cloves of garlic, or prepare a teaspoonful of chopped onion and one-half a green pepper, and add them to a large tomato, or its equivalent, cut into dice. Melt in a saucepan a piece of butter the size of a small egg and cook the vegetables in it until done. Add six eggs slightly beaten and stir until the mixture is thick. Lastly, stir in a teaspoonful of chopped parsely and serve immediately on a hot platter garnished with thick slices of fresh tomatoes.

Tapioca Pudding —T wo cups milk, one-fourth cup tapioca, two eggs, three tablespoons sugar, one-half teaspoon salt, one-half teaspoon vanilla. Heat milk in double boiler. Soak tapioca in a little water, add beaten egg, sugar, salt and pour over this the hot milk. Cook in double boiler until tapioca is clear. Add flavoring and chill. This serves six people.

SUGGESTIONS

Here is a hint to remember during the canning season: Combination fruit salads, fruit cups, or fruit cocktails are simple propositions if a few jars of mixed fruits are put up while the canning season is in full swing.

Too much beating makes cakes crack on top when they are baking. After all of the ingredients are in one minute of beating is about right.

If a rug is continually fraying out on the ends and will not stay sewed, try glue. Work liquid glue into the rug for about half an inch from the edge with the fingers, let dry on a flat surface, and your rug will stay mended.

Peanut Cookies — One level cup ground, freshly roasted peanuts, one level cup sugar, one-fourth cup peanut oil, two eggs, one and one-half cups flour, one-half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons baking powder. Cream sugar and peanut oil, add beaten eggs and flour sifted twice with baking powder and salt. Mix in half the ground peanuts and sprinkle balance on cookies before putting them in a moderate oven. Bake about twelve minutes. This recipe makes sufficient for thirty cookies.

Apricot in Orange Jelly. . Soak two tablespoons graulated gelatine in one-half cup cold water twenty minutes, dissolve in one and one-half cups boiling water, strain, add one cup sugar, one and one-half cups orange juice and three tablespoons lemon juice. Drain peeled canned apricots from the syrup in the can; pour orange mixture into individual molds (first wetting the inside of the mold with cold water) to a depth of one-half inch. Place a blanched almond in the pit cavity of each apricot, and when jelly is set arrange prepared apricots over gelatine, cut side down. Pour over enough of the orange mixture to hold fruit in place when jelly is set and fill molds to top. Chill. Unmold and serve with whipped cream.

Macaroni—Cut up eight slices of bacon in small pieces, add two onions cut fine, and fry brown. Then add one can of tomatoes and let cook one-half hour. Cook spaghetti or macaroni in salted water until soft, then mix all together and put in baking dish and grate cheese on top. Put in oven and bake fifteen minutes.

SUGGESTIONS

The newest way of stringing crystal beads is to separate each bead with a colored rondel. Green onyx, sapphire or amethyst rondels are those most used and they may be purchased at the bead departments of shops.

Having little room for the family rubbers one woman evolved the idea of having a tinner make a box out of galvanized iron, twenty-six inches long, six inches wide and six and one-half inches high. This was divided into six compartments, four of which were four inches long and the other two five inches long, even the smaller compartments held a pair of lady's rubbers very nicely. The name of each person was written either on the outside or inside of each compartment. It could be placed on the porch, in the hall—anywhere—for it takes up so little room, can be washed when dirty, will not wear out or rust.

Skinny men and women take them to speedily put on plenty of good, healthy, solid flesh, and for this purpose they are so extremely good that thin men and women often take on 5 pounds or more in 30 days. Suit For Damages Growing Out Of Auto Accident

Case Of Pitzer Against De Guegonis On Trial Today Before Judge Henninger

The case of Harry Pitzer and others against Jiannis De Guegonis, for damages growing out of an automobile accident at Newport, in which Mrs. P. Margaret H. Pitzer of Union township, was killed on May 4, 1924, is on trial before Judge Henninger of Butler, here, today.

Joseph Pitzer, a son of the deceased, was the first witness called. He testified that on the evening of May 4 he had started to drive to Woodlawn. As he was going down the hill at Newport, he saw a car coming around a curve some distance ahead at a high rate of speed. As it neared him the driver of the car pulled out to pass another machine which was coming in the same direction. Pitzer pulled partly off the concrete to escape a collision, but was struck by the approaching car. A rib of the car occupied by Guegonis was broken off and penetrated the throat of Mrs. Pitzer, who was sitting on a rear seat immediately back of the driver. She died instantly.

The Guegonis car was carried up an embankment, about 60 feet from the road. Guegonis, whose home is in Beaver Falls, was arrested, entered a plea to manslaughter and was sentenced. The present suit is for civil damages for funeral expenses, injury to the Pitzer car and other items, amounting in all to $2709.

What this country needs is more aisles so that everybody will be able to buy a seat on one.

Arrested On Charge Growing Out Of Auto Reported Missing

Constable R. B. Morrow went to Massillon, Ohio, Saturday and brought back I. P. Ferry, who was wanted on an information made by W. S. Thelman before Alderman Mantz, on a charge of failing to return an automobile which he had rented from Thelman.

When the machine was rented $10 was paid. It was kept out longer than expected with the result that there was $14 due on it. Ferry, not having the money, says that he left the machine in front of Thelman's on South Croton Avenue and as Thelman did not get it, believes that it was stolen. Ferry denies that he stole the automobile. Bail was given for a hearing.

If their notification is greeted with a refusal, the city will lay the sewer and charge the item against the township and commence a court battle to secure payment, it was stated. It is alleged that water from Shenango township creates a nuisance in Balph avenue and Moravia street.

Saul, it was explained is building an apartment dwelling and V. H. Diefendorfer intends to erect another dwelling in Logan street.

Will Be Costly

On account of the expense of the proposed sanitary sewer through rock Councilman Burns expressed opposition unless built at the property-owners expense.

Attorney Davis held firm to the point that it was the duty of the city to lay sanitary sewers in the way prescribed by law which would result in viewers reporting the benefits and expenses.

Attention was called to the city's petition which persons have been signing agreeing to pay for sanitary sewers.

Davis demanded that the sewer be built according to law, saying:

"We do not know what the viewers will do. We have a right to a sanitary sewer, under the law. You can construct the sewer, then proceed according to the law."

Councilman Tyler took the attitude that there are too many cess pools in the city and believes sanitation is important. Along with this thought, he offered his motion instructing that an ordinance be prepared. In the meantime the city engineer will determine the probable cost of the sewer.

Senator Reed To Start Probe In Oregon Campaign

Slush Fund Probe In Oregon Primary Ordered By Dynamic Senator

(International News Service)

FEDERAL BUILDING Kansas City Mo., Oct. 25.—A slush fund investigation of the Oregon senatorial campaign was ordered today by Senator James Reed, Democrat chairman of the senatorial campaign committee.

Reed instructed Senators McNary, Republican of Oregon and King, Democrat of Utah, to conduct the inquiry as soon as they complete the present investigation into the Washington senatorial campaign.

Senator Reed asked them to investigate specifically the campaign of Fred Steiwer, the Republican nominee.

"I have it on good authority" said Reed, "that Franklin K. Griffith of the Portland Electric Power company gave the Portland, Oregonian $35,000 for opposition to Senator Stanfield, who was defeated by Steiwer in the Republican primary of which $25,000 was sent from the headquarters in Philadelphia. Only a senate inquiry can establish the fact as no report was made of this contribution to the state."

Marines Take Up Jobs Guarding All Shipments Of Mail

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 25.—"Shoot to kill" was the last command of Brig. Gen. Logan Feland of the marine corps, as he dispatched groups of the "devil dogs" to guard the mails at Harrisburg, Scranton and Wilkes-Barre. The marines will assume their positions today. General Feland, commander of the eastern zone of the mail guards, will make his headquarters here.

"The same situation faces you men as would result if the United States were at war," General Feland warned the marines. "If any man or group of men attack the guards of the mails let there be no hesitation. You are justified in shooting to kill. If a captive attempts to escape, you also are justified in killing," he said.

Community House Burned To Ground

Russian Textile Workers Watch Building Erected With Wages Burned

CONTROVERSY OVER SHELL IS RAGING

By H. R. KNICKERBOCKER
International News Service Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, Oct. 25.—Another experiment in communal house-keeping has gone up in smoke, and 15,000 workers of the Gluchov textile factory are bewailing the loss of 500,000 roubles spent in the effort to realize one of principals of communism.

Enthusiastically pondering the advantage to be gained by pooling their efforts, the 15,000 workers all chipped in to build a community kitchen. They gave the job, as all good proletarians should, to a contracting firm of the Soviet government, the Moscow Workers House Building Trust.

No sooner had the house been constructed, and ranges installed and kitchen utensils provided, than the cooks were forced to abandon the building. It was about to fall down. The whole year of 1925 was spent in repairing the structure.

Repairs completed, the cooks moved in again, but had hardly prepared the first course of the first meal, when the top two stories fell in. Until late this Autumn workmen labored incessantly to bring the rickety building into shape.

They gave up the effort. A special committee of the factory workers inspected the building and recommended that it be burned. Fifteen thousand sorrowing factory workers witnessed the conflagration. The two engineers responsible for the faulty construction have been arrested.

Not many new buildings in the Soviet Union fall down before they are occupied, but the number of old buildings collapsing has become alarming. In Leningrad the city authorities have just condemned twenty-five buildings which had become dangerous to the lives of the tenant. The Communal Department has already evicted more than 1,000 men and women from the condemned houses.

Soviet economists have begun to realize that it is impossible to maintain buildings in repair under the present system of rent. In houses occupied by workmen, who pay according to their wages and not according to the quality of their lodgings, the total rent often averages only 2 or 3 roubles a month per room. The consequence is that, not only are very few houses being constructed, but that the old ones are falling to pieces, and the housing problem all over the Soviet Union is becoming catastrophically acute.

A shell fired from a Turkish warship bombarding Odessa in 1914 lodged in the wall of a house. It sank deep in the mortar, failed to explode, and caused no trouble. Today it has aroused a controversy which has stirred the people to war-time excitement.

Workmen recently discovered the shell during the course of repairs on the house. They sheered off when they discovered what it was, and when the inhabitants of the house learned of their hazardous neighbors they moved out immediately. Their exodus was followed by a general flight of all the inhabitants of the vicinity. Within forty-eight hours a circle comprising four blocks of houses had been evacuated. The Odessans anticipated that the explosion of the shell would raze buildings for blocks around.

Public opinion immediately split into several camps. Some said the army should explode the shell by shooting at it with machine guns. Others said the shell ought to be left where it was, and a permanent barred zone set up around it within which nobody should be allowed to live. Others advocated putting a man condemned to death at the task of extracting the shell.

The contractors engaged in repairing the house finally found a group of workmen who agreed to get the shell out provided they could have their lives insured. But the Government Insurance Office refused to insure their lives for such work.

For six weeks now there has been going on a feverish interchange of correspondence between the Government Insurance Office, the contractor, the Artillery Board of Odessa, the Board of Communal Economy, the Central Executive Committee of Soviets, the Office of the Chief of Militia, the District Engineer, and numbers of private citizens.

NORMAL SCHOOL STUDENTS GET TRAINING HERE

Fifty-Four Students To Do Their Practice Teaching In New Castle

Of this year's senior class of Slippery Rock State Normal School no less than fifty-four students will do their practice teaching in the New Castle public schools. The school has at present six training teachers at this training center, and another one will be added to this group at the opening of the next quarter. Four of these training teachers have charge of grades 1, 2, 3; two are teachers for the 4th, 5th, and 6th grades. To the latter group another teacher will be added at the end of this quarter.

New Castle is the only training center on the Normal School's list which has departmentalized the work of its teachers, that is each teacher has been assigned a limited number of subjects to teach. This arrangement makes necessary a shifting of classes at intervals during the day and brings the student teachers in contact with students of several grades. Furthermore by the School's contract with the board of education only two student teachers may be assigned to one training teacher. The names of the training teachers follow: Helen Maxwell, Anna Dodds, Laura Blucher, Juliet Price, Thersia Cover, Theodora Pollock.

Flappers Make Best "Scarecrows"

Farmers Find That "Scarecrows" In Woman's Apparel Are Most Effective

CONDITIONS IN EUROPE IMPROVE

By PAUL E. BROKAW.
International News Service Staff Correspondent

CINCINNATI, O., Oct. 25.—"Flapper scarecrows" perform their duties more successfully than do those of the "stronger sex."

So declared Dr. William C. Herman noted ornithologist, after making a practical test of various kinds of devices to frighten birds from the grape crop.

"At first I tried a scarecrow dressed in man's clothing" said the naturalist, "but the birds grew quite friendly with 'him.' They even perched on 'his' shoulders."

"Then I decided to try the deadlier sex—and I garbed my scarecrow in flappers apparel."

"For some reason it was extremely successfully."

European conditions are improving and the Dawes reparations plan may claim the glory in the opinion of Dr. Mortiz J. Bonn, former leader in the Democratic party in the Reichstag.

In a series of addresses before a German society here the former German politician declared repeatedly that European nations are on their way to complete recovery from war time reverses.

How to spank your child, or rules for chastisement of the younger generation, were among practical hints handed out at the meeting of the Ohio Welfare conference here recently.

In substance they were:

Spanking, if any, should be administered promptly after the alleged offense has taken place— or better yet, immediately upon its discovery. The entire profit gained by spanking is to associate a bit of leather or a well developed palm with a bit of wrongdoing.

Spanking should begin at an early age and may prove helpful until the child is eight years of age, a hitherto unspanked child should not be initiated after that time as he or she will more than likely feel outraged.

"Old Dobbin" who has been the power behind the "log skidding" industry throughout the history of the timberlands will shortly hear another death knell ringing in his behalf.

Gasoline skidders and caterpillar tractors have practically displaced him according to facts brought out before a session of the Applachian Logging congress here.

E. H. Frothingham director of the Applachian Forest Experiment station at Asheville, N. C. also told the congress about the blight that has killed millions of chestnut trees throughout the Appalachian timber range.

In New York, Connecticut and all along the Appalachian range millions and millions of chestnut trees —hardwood timber—have been destroyed by the Chinese blight. There is no solution except to use the trees before destruction is complete" he said.

B. & O. Also Files Protest Against B. R. & P. Leasing

By GEORGE H. MANNING.
(Washington Correspondent of The News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 25.—Contending that the proposed lease of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh railway to the Delaware and Hudson company is not in the public interest and should not be approved the Baltimore and Ohio railroad today filed with the Interstate Commerce commission a lengthy brief in opposition to the D. and H.'s application.

The Baltimore and Ohio presented objections to the lease on the grounds of the widely separated location of the two roads, they being 150 miles apart; their lack of any background of railroad relationship and the alleged demonstration from their past history that their interests lie in entirely opposite directions.

The 30 years of past association between the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh and the Baltimore and Ohio has disclosed benefits and advantages to the two railroads and the public generally which should not be disturbed, it was declared. The B. and O. now has a trackage agreement with the B. R. and P. by which it is allowed freedom of use of the latter's tracks. The request for approval of the lease was a request for the commission to become a party to an attempted avoidance of a contract it was claimed.

It was also contended that the lease would interfere with the consummation of arrangements for the Baltimore and Ohio's proposed new short line from New York to Chicago which would relieve congestion of traffic.

The New York Central also has entered a brief in opposition to the proposed lease.

Fresh-made steaming hot oatmeal
—ready in a jiffy

It is no longer any trouble to have hot oatmeal for the children frequently. Quick Mother's Oats cooks in 3 to 5 minutes.

Like the Mother's Oats you have always known, it is made by careful millers from the cream of the oat crop. It is the natural whole grain—with none of the valuable parts removed.

That is one reason it tastes so good! And that is why it is the breakfast approved by child health specialists. For now it is being shown that sound, perfect development comes from the right growth foods.

A cup of Quick Mother's Oats, with a cup of milk, contributes nearly one-quarter of the protein needed by a growing child in a day.

MOTHER OF TWELVE CHILDREN IS EMINENT AS INDUSTRIAL ENGINEER

New Jersey Woman Raises Large Family And Has Business Career, Too

Mrs. Lillian Moler Gilbreth Is Probably Most Unusual Woman Of Today

By JANE BENEDICT
(Washington Correspondent of the New Castle News).

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 25.—Take one small, slender woman who knows what she wants and is willing to pay for it, and one engineer with ideas about what marriage ought to be. Marry them and set them to simmer on a profession of a novel kind. Put in a generous dash of romance and season with a scientific attitude toward both family and professional life. Add eleven children in rapid succession. Mix in a series of publications on fatigue, time and motion saving, the psychology of industry, and the education of the disabled soldier. Allow one servant.

That may not sound like a recipe for Eternal Youth.

But it seems to have produced it for Lillian Moller Gilbreth, of Montclair, N. J., president of Gilbreth, Inc., Consultative Engineers in Management.

For Mrs. Gilbreth, who holds three university degrees, including a Ph. D., which she won after her large family was already partly produced, and a Phi Beta Kappa key to testify to the high quality of her academic work, looks too youthful to be the mother of more than one or two children, too youthful to have made such a success in her profession that she is listed in "Who's Who" and contributed the article on scientific management to the New International Encyclopedia.

It is all true, however. There were twelve children, but one died. The oldest daughter married a few weeks ago at the age of 21. There are still six boys and four girls at home. But there is only Mrs. Gilbreth to keep up the family and the profession she and Frank Bunker Gilbreth started in 1902, for Mr. Gilbreth died two years ago.

It is not quite true that there is only Mrs. Gilbreth, for "Dad's idea" was that each member of the family is an integral part of it, both in production and in enjoyment. So the ten children at home feel their responsibility toward making the home go just as much as does Mrs. Gilbreth. Their pride is in being "producers, not parasites." But they are paid for their actual work, and they all co-operate to make their home as pleasant a place as possible, a place where each member of the family rests or works or plays, as the time demands, keeps his possessions, and entertains his friends.

"And Dad's idea worked," Mrs. Gilbreth wants you to know. "Dad's idea" was that when you start a home, as when you start a business, you should know what your objectives are. Next you should find out what has to be done to attain your results. You should then take stock of the time, ability, and energy of all those who are to do the work, and should budget your money as well as all the time and energy and ability available.

When Mrs. Gilbreth is not busy making industrial and psychological studies for the benefit of large factories or businesses, she sees many women. Their first question is, "How do you do it?"

"In the first place, I have perfect health. That is why I was willing to have so many children. I regard child-bearing as a normal function, and I believe that the wrong psychological attitude has done more to cause women's suffering than has any real physical weakness," she says.

Then, she and her husband, with their industrial engineering ability, eliminated all unnecessary work about the house, and simplified the rest, and divided it among the members of the family, not according to sex, but according to individual abilities and preferences. Thus, all the housework, except the cooking and washing done by one man, is done by the family. They keep up the garden, too.

Now does this participation of all the family in the work prevent their enjoying one another. There are family dances in the dining room, boxing matches in the hall, all sorts of games all over the house and the garden, and a reading circle in the evenings when it is wanted. When Mrs. Gilbreth came to Washington a few days ago, she was in the midst of reading "Arabian Nights" with the children. As she finished one of the tales the last evening, the children inquired whether they should go on with the book, or wait until she returned.

"Read something else, and let me finish this with you," she requested.

"Why, Mother, you're interested!" one of the children exclaimed.

"And it's the parent's interest that counts, not the actual time the mother or father spends with the children. But at that, I'll match with any woman as to the hours I spend with my children," is Mrs. Gilbreth's challenge.

Frank Bunker Gilbreth and Lillian Moller Gilbreth both wanted to do their own work in their chosen profession, which enabled them to be partners, and they did it. They both wanted children, and they had them. They both wanted a happy family life, and they created it. They wanted to achieve eminence in their profession, and both are in "Who's Who in America."

Mrs. Gilbreth was born in Oakland, Calif., on May 24, 1878. She was graduated with the degree of Bachelor of Literature in 1900, and won the degree of Master of Literature there is 1902 the same year she and Frank Bunker Gilbreth were married. Her Ph. D. came from Brown University in 1915. She is a member of the American Psychological Society, the Taylor Society, the Academy Masaryk, the American Association of University Women, and an honorary member of the Society of Industrial Engineers.

"You can have what you want, but you must be willing to pay for it," Mrs. Gilbreth explains. "A woman undertaking both a career and a family has to give up many things such, for example, as the kind of social life most wives enjoy. You must simply decide what you want most, and be willing to pay for it.

"You must also enter into both with the right frame of mind. A woman has to free her mind of all the taboos which have been placed upon her, if she is going to keep right on working as she is having children. And she must keep her health of mind and body.

"Applying the scientific method to the home does not rob it of its romance," Mrs. Gilbreth guarantees.

Rheumatism Gone, Too, Says Mrs. Meneman, Beaver Falls

Lady Gives Credit for Relieving Her in Short Time

"Four years ago," said Mrs. Meneman, 1837 Third avenue, recently. "I suffered severely from chronic stomach and liver disorders and had rheumatism almost all through my body. My limbs were painfully swollen. I could hardly lift my hands above my head, and often at night I suffered such agony I could not get an hour's sleep. Indigestion, loss of appetite, nervousness, constipation, sick headaches, dizziness and nausea, with this rheumatism, kept me in misery and I was facing a complete breakdown from weakness and suffering.

"For the health and happiness I have enjoyed these four years. I have World's Tonic alone to thank. After using it just one month, my whole system was perfectly regulated, I did not have a touch of rheumatism, and had gained back my normal weight and strength. World's Tonic was a wonderful blessing to me."

World's Tonic only $1 a bottle at Paisley's, Smith's, McKee's Kut Rate and Eckards Inc. of New Castle, and all other reliable Drug stores.

Woman, Two Men Nabbed For Stealing Produce On Farms

Give Residence As Ellwood City When Arrested At Butler

BUTLER, Pa., Oct. 25.—Alleged to have stolen several bushels of produce from the farm of Harvey E. Workley in Lawrence county late Saturday night two men and a woman who said they were Charles A. Bird, Russell Gilchrist and his wife Mrs. Maude Gilchrist all of Ellwood City were arrested by Private Vincent H. Bridge of the Butler state police barracks each on the charge of larceny.

For the past several weeks the state police have received complaints from farmers in Lawrence county stating that produce amounting to several hundred dollars had been stolen from their farms. Last Saturday night Workley notified the police that there were produce thieves in his place and Private Bridge immediately left for the scene.

Gilchrist, his wife and Bird were brought to the police barracks here and will be given a hearing today.

Rev. M. J. Scripture Begins Pastorate At Hoover Heights

New Pastor From Saratoga Springs, N. Y., Assumes Charge Here Sunday

REV. M. J. SCRIPTURE

Rev. Milton J. Scripture, who was recently called to the pastorate of the Hoover Heights Tabernacle of the Christian and Missionary Alliance, Moorhead and Morris avenue, delivered his first message Sunday in the local church.

Rev. and Mrs. Scripture and three children arrived in this city at noon Saturday, having motored from Saratoga Springs, N. Y., where the former has been a very successful pastor for the past two and a half years. Previous to his service there Rev. Scripture served a pastorate at Holiday, Pa., and Illion, N. Y.

Last evening Rev. Scripture spoke to a large audience, striking what was declared to be the keynote to his ministry, his subject being "Jesus Only". He emphasized the awfulness of sin and that it was universal, all men everywhere being found in sin. Various remedies were referred to sin, but none, the speaker declared, brought relief or peace or the assurance of sins forgiven or taken away. Nothing but Christ was able to bear man's sin.

Miller Divorce Trial Opens In Venango County

Wife Of Nationally Known Oil Magnate Starts Proceedings For Divorce

(International News Service)

FRANKLIN, Pa., Oct. 25.—Selection of a jury to hear evidence in the suit of Mrs. Emma Miller for a divorce from her 84-year-old husband, Gen. Charles Miller, nationally known oil magnate, was expected to occupy Venango county court today.

Mrs. Miller alleges infidelity, accusing her husband of paying attentions to Alice McCormack, an elevator girl, in New York. General Miller has denied the charges, and his counsel alleges it is Mrs. Miller's intention to secure part of Miller's estate.

Whether Mrs. Miller will have the McCormack girl subpoenaed to appear at the trial has not been revealed. The plaintiff came here several days ago with her attorneys from New York.

The case attracted much attention because of the prominence of General Miller, for many years a familiar figure in the oil industry. Despite his advanced age, Miller is in good health and was expected to attend all sessions of the trial.

Nurse Placed On Trial For Killing Of Doctor-Lover

Crowded Court Room Greets Opening Of West Virginia Murder Case Today

(International News Service)

MORGANTOWN, W. Va., Oct. 25.—A crowded courtroom today witnessed the opening of the trial of Mrs. Georgia Ridgeway, trained nurse, charged with the murder of her employer, Dr. W. B. Borror, widely known physician. Indications were that the day would be taken up with the selection of a jury and preliminary details, and that taking of testimony would begin tomorrow or possibly Wednesday.

A formidable array of legal talent for the state and defense indicated a long fight in the case, which has created an unparalleled sensation in West Virginia. The prosecution numbers among its members former Supreme Court Judge Frank Cox and J. W. Madden, dean of the college of law of West Virginia University. C. William Cramer, widely known criminal lawyer, heads the nurse's defense.

Dr. Borror was found stabbed to death in his offices here. Mrs. Ridgeway, his nurse, was immediately placed under arrest, while Dr. Borror's widow employed Judge Cox and Madden to aid the state in its case. The prosecution indicated it would base its case on alleged relationships between Dr. Borror and the defendant.

Seven Convicts Wounded In Plan To Gain Liberty

Two of the convicts were probably fatally wounded when they made a break for the outer stockade.

The other five barricaded themselves in an old twine factory but finally were made to surrender under a barrage of rifle and revolver shots from the guards.

Piles Go Quick

Without Salves or Cutting

Thousands who have piles have not learned that quick and permanent relief can only be accomplished with internal medicine. Neither cutting nor any amount of treatment with ointments and suppositories will remove the cause.

Bad circulation causes piles. There is a complete stagnation of blood in the lower bowel and a weakening of the parts. Dr. J. S. Leonhardt was first to find the remedy and called his prescription HEM-ROID. Dr. Leonhardt tried it in 1,000 cases with the marvelous record of success in 98 per cent and then decided it should be sold by druggists everywhere under a rigid money-back guarantee.

Don't waste any more time with outside applications. Get a package of HEM-ROID from McKee's Cut Rate Store and Eckerd's of New Castle, Inc., today. It has given safe and lasting relief to thousands and will do the same for you.

Dry Forces Open State Campaigns

Drys Discard Indifference To Liquor Referendum In Planning Campaign

WHEELER ISSUES HIS FORECAST

By WILLIAM S. NEAL
International News Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 25.—Discarding their reported indifference toward liquor referendums, the drys have opened a smashing offensive to win in five states on November 2, Wayne B. Wheeler, general counsel for the Anti-Saloon League of America, disclosed today.

The drys have named California, Colorado, Montana, Nevada and Missouri as their battlegrounds, Wheeler said. He declared prohibition forces are making no fight in New York, Illinois and Wisconsin.

While the dry "ace" was issuing his forecast, G. C. Hinckley, secretary of the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, declared a survey assured the wets of victory in seven of the eight referendum states.

The wet organization has repudiated the proposed Missouri referendum which is in dispute as unfair to wets and drys alike, Hinckley said.

Nearly one-fourth of the voters of the country will face the wet and dry question when they enter the voting booth in the referendum states.

Repeal of state enforcement laws is proposed in California, Colorado and Montana, and this question is included with others in Missouri, Hinckley said.

An overwhelming sentiment for modification of the Volstead act exists in New York, Illinois and Wisconsin, he asserted.

Numerous Week-End Accidents Reported

No Serious Traffic Mishaps Occur According To Police Reports

Quite a number of accidents were reported to the police over the week end. While there was damage done in practically every instance, none of the accidents reported were of what might be termed a serious character.

Leo Bryson, 411 Bell avenue, reported that he was driving his father's machine on East Long avenue Sunday, when a woman driving a car in front of him, turned into North Howard Way, then backed out on East Long avenue. In trying to avoid hitting her machine, his machine skidded into a curb light post, breaking the globe on the post.

Joseph Nemith of Princeton, R. D. No. 6, reported Sunday that as he was driving north on Water street at Market Way, William Bauder of 248 Fern street, came out of Market Way and the two machines came together. Both were damaged to some extent.

Ernest Aloe of 547 East Long avenue, reported Sunday that he was driving south on South Mill street, near the People's Ice Company place of business, when a sedan bearing Pennsylvania license 681-972 stopped suddenly and his machine ran into it. Some damage was done.

Samuel Reynolds of 760 Lathrop street, reported Sunday that he was driving east on East Washington street at County Line, when R. A. Woods drove out of County Line to go east on Washington street and the machines were into a collision. Slight damage was done.

Harry Bradley, Jr., of 347 Shaw street, reported Saturday that while driving the car of C. J. Kirk south on North Jefferson street near North street, that a car bearing Pennsylvania license 98-601 backed out from the curb where it had been parked and struck and damaged the fender of his machine. The driver of license No. 98-601 did not stop to determine the extent of the damage done.

Plan Burial Of Former Champion For Wednesday

Messages Of Sympathy From All Parts Of Country Pour Into Greb Home

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 25.—Hundreds of friends and admirers of Harry Greb passed the bier of the former middleweight champion in the home of his sister, Mrs. J. E. Edwards, here today. Upon its arrival here from Atlantic City, where Greb died in a sanitarium, the body was taken to Mrs. Edwards' home where it will repose pending the arrival of another sister, Clara Greb, from Spokane, Wash.

Floral tributes and messages from Greb's friends poured in from all parts of the country. Jack Dempsey, ex-heavyweight champion wired: "I have lost one of my best friends and the world one of its greatest champions." Johnny Wilson, whom Greb stripped of the middleweight title, sent a message of sympathy as did Tiger Flowers, who took the title from Greb.

Believing that the funeral would be held today, Judge U. G. Bartlett of Detroit made a trip here, but returned to Detroit upon learning that burial would be on Wednesday. Judge Bartlett was one of Greb's staunchest admirers.

Funeral services will be held in the Sacred Heart church next Wednesday. Burial will be in Calvary cemetery here.

The police authorities took his explanation with a grain of salt and assessed him a fine of $5 and confiscated his gun.

Fire Alarm Call To Rabinovitz Property

Hot Ashes Are The Cause Of Fire That Might Have Caused Serious Results

A still alarm at 5:30 o'clock Sunday morning, called Chief Charles H. Lynn and an assistant to the building of Nathan Rabinovitz at 112-116 East Grant street, where they found that a serious fire had been narrowly averted.

Hot ashes in boxes and other containers of that type, also some rubbish in the cellar had caught on fire and blazed up against a brick partition wall and against the ceiling above. The damage was about $10.

All that prevented a serious fire according to Chief Lynn was the fact that the partition wall was of brick and that the ceiling was plastered. As it was the fire did damage to a few of the joists.

NINE BRIDGES TO BE ERECTED IN MERCER COUNTY

Recommendations Are Made By Grand Jury—Other Mercer County News

(Special To The News)

MERCER, Pa., Oct. 25.—The nine bridges recommended by the October grand jury will cost on an average of $2,000 each to build, it is said today by County Engineer F. P. Graham. The bridges are small spans averaging 12 to 15 feet in width. They were washed out by the heavy rains of August and September and have been repaired temporarily for winter use. All are township bridges, it is said. The recommendation was to the effect that the county should pay 90 per cent of the cost under which the law would still leave them township bridges erected with county assistance, this despite the pleadings that they be taken over by the county. Two are located in Hickory township, one in Delaware, three in Jefferson, 1 on the Mercer-Sharpsville road, two on the tow-path road from Big Bend to Clarksville.

The gasser of half a million feet a day struck on the Sherman Drake farm in Springfield township by the New Wilmington Gas company of recent date has been productive of an activity among a group of land owners whose terrian surrounds this gaseous bonanza. W. N. Hovis who drilled in the Drake well has been given a contract for three wells to test out the territory. His rig is now located on the first one on the M. B. Orr farm. It is said that the farmers interested are owners of 1,000 acres which would protect any gas strike that might be made. There is not much doubt but that the owners will get results. Sale of their product is announced provided for.

The city of Farrell has paid of its county tax duplicate of $114,000 the sum of $84,000 through its collector, Joe Canteloupe. The payment made of recent date represents a face value of $10,000 additional to the amount noted here in discounts. The city of Sharon has paid $103,000 on a $200,000 duplicate, the records would show.

There will be no Hallowe'en celebrations allowed in Mercer until the date of November 1, of a public character, announces Burgess Paul Terhune today. Juveniles are advised that this order will be strictly enforced.

If the 1925 record of hunters' licenses issued the week prefacing the opening of the season on November 1 is any criterion of the sales at the office of the county treasurer for 1926, a total of 3,000 licenses will be written during the coming week. County Treasurer Simons reports sale today of 4,000 licenses. With the opening of the 1925 season 7,000 were issued and 1,000 sold following that date.

New York Central Opposes Leasing Of B. R. & P. Railway

BY GEORGE H. MANNING.
(Washington Correspondent of The News.)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 25.—Argument in opposition to the proposed lease of the Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh railway by the Delaware and Hudson company, application for which is now pending before the Interstate Commerce commission was presented to the commission in a brief filed today by the New York Central railroad.

Absence of physical connection between the Delaware and Hudson lines and those of the B. R. and P. was stressed in the New York Central's brief and it was stated that in order that traffic from one road may reach the other it must pass over either the Delaware, Lackawanna and Western, the Lehigh Valley, the Erie or the New York Central.

It may fairly be suggested that the commission might properly require that a railroad desiring to lease another railroad should connect with it either directly or through the medium of a belt or switching line" it was declared.

The New York Central scouted the claim that no objection to the proposed lease had been made by any interested party except the Baltimore and Ohio. This claim was made by the Delaware and Hudson in its brief supporting its application.

The Delaware and Hudson is contending that the trackage right agreements by which the Baltimore and Ohio and Buffalo, Rochester & Pittsburgh use each other's tracks are advantageous to both railroads and that they would undoubtedly be continued in the event the lease was effected.

Miss Miriam Johnston Of Ellwood City Is Honored At Goucher College

(Special To The News)

BALTIMORE, Md., Oct. 25. — Pennsylvania girls, freshmen at Goucher college, where cosmetics and cigarettes are forbidden but not unknown, today, with other members of their class, are worshipping Sophie Moore, transferred to them in elaborate ceremonies Saturday at the college, with a funeral dirge chanted by the upper classmen welcoming the first year girls to the institution.

Sophie Moore is a beautiful waxed haired doll, who carries a notebook and wears miniature spectacles. She is the cherished idol of each year's youngest class.

The transfer was given with the upper classmen represented by Miss Jean K. Gardiner, 4624, Philadelphia, president of the senior class and a selected group of sophomores headed by their newly elected president, Miss Miriam Johnson, of Ellwood City, Pa. Miss Mareauer Simms, of Harrisburg, Pa., was chairman of decorations.

Dr. William W. Guth, president of Goucher, in a recent address welcoming the freshmen to the college, asserted that he did not know what a flapper is, but that Goucher was not the place for the girl with the flapper mind. He admitted, however, that Rudolph Valentino, the flapper's lamented deceased sheik, had performed a great service to humanity by his appeal to a certain section of it, but he added that he never knew Valentino either in the flesh or in the pictures. All of his admiration for the sheik, he said, had been aroused by the writings of N. L. Mencken.

Pennsylvania girls in the freshmen class include:

Johnstown—Ursula Stevens Henderson; Florence Rose Livingston; Thelma Elmira Shaver.

Jeanette—Katherine Baughman; Sarah Boyd Kurtz.

Greensburg—Dorothy Elizabeth Nicewouger.

New Castle — Julia McJunkin Furst; Edith Claribel Borland.

St. Mary's — Ruth Virginia Cheattle; Mary Anna Cochrane.

Ellwood Wins From Woodlawn

High School Team Defeats Valley Eleven Saturday 20 To 0

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Oct. 25.—Ellwood defeated Woodlawn Saturday at the athletic field in Ellwood by a 19-0 score.

After being played to a scoreless tie in the first half of the game the Ellwood players came to life and scored at will. A forward pass of 71 yards, from Johnston to Demas, a double pass and a pass, Clyde to Johnston to Demas for nine yards and a line plunge by Jim MacMurdo scoring the touchdowns for Ellwood.

Woodlawn never threatened the goal, giving the Ellwood fans a thrill only when they made three first downs in succession. Thirty-six yards was the nearest that they could get to the coveted posts. Abee and Bagshaw were in the limelight for Woodlawn in the earlier stages of the game, they ripping substantial gains through Ellwood's right side of the line.

From the kickoff of the second half the local boys began a march from the field, scoring their first touchdown. Johnston, MacMurdo, Clyde and Wilson all featured in the gains by passes, line bucks and end runs.

The thrill of the game came in the last quarter when Demas received a 20-yard pass and romped the remaining 51 yards for the second touchdown.

MacMurdo scored the third touchdown, after Johnston, Wilson, Buzzelli and MacMurdo took turns in carrying the ball 55 yards, placing the ball on the one-yard line. Jim then made a plunge through center for the marker.

Father time robbed the Ellwood boys of two more touchdowns, they having the ball on the five-yard line when the first half ended, and again after a 41-yard run by Johnston and several line plunges by the husky "Mac", the game ended with Ellwood needing only four yards.

For Ellwood, Demas, Johnston, Clyde and MacMurdo played the best game in the offensive while Nehf showed up well on the line. Bagshaw, Abee and Murphy played best for the losers. The lineup:

Ellwood 19		Woodlawn 0
McCarthy	L.E.	Sloss
Nehf	L.T.	Rebich

Snow Flurries Hurries Winter

ELLWOOD CITY, Pa., Oct. 25.—Ha! At last the snow king sits on his throne and rules the world (including Ellwood and other parts north) with a rod of ice.

Flutter flutter, little snowflakes float thru the air to sprinkle the streets of Ellwood.

What matters it to the king that his subjects cause the flowers to drop their heads and the pretty birds to fly to a warmer clime along with other birds, sometimes known as tourists?

Ha! he wields the rod, the queen at his side, shivers and trembles to do the command of his majesty. She put the kind thoughts of snowballs and sled rides and ice skating into the hearts of the little children while his majesty prepares the rivers for the siege of slush and ice for the playground.

Many tons of icicles, many millions of bushels of snowflakes, layers of ice and shadows to spread over the sun have been prepared for the winter. But again the queen has intervened for her subjects. She has made a gorgeous coverlet of shining stars for the sky and a beautiful moon to shine so clear for the skaters.

Even the cold, cold wind can't sweep the stars from the coverlet upon which she has been spending so many months.

Sidney Wilkoff of Pittsburgh spent the week end with friends in Ellwood City.

FOUR FIRM FRIENDS

Among the dogs who worshipped in the moonlight four were firm friends. A strange thing, this friendship, and one not easily understood. For these four dogs were as unlike as four dogs could be. One came from the north, and his coat was as thick as a buffalo robe and as white as caps on the wave; one came from the east and his hair was soft as silk and glistens like amber when the sun strikes it. Very little hair at all had the dog who came from the south, and he tired easily while he whose home was in the west had legs whose muscles were like whipcords and breath that would carry him far. And these dogs met only at night when the moon was full on the Mount of Many Barks.

Yet each of the four for the other three would fight, to the last breath if need be, and all the dogs knew this and minded their manners when one of the four was about.

The dog who lived in the North Countree bragged of its ice and sleet to the dog whose home was on the hot sands. And the dog who spent his years in the east recounted its splendors to the dog who roamed in the western forests. Each told of the land he loved the best to his friend who knew it not, and the four dogs hearing the tale trotted home and told it to their neighbors. In time the dogs who lived in one-half the world had heard how the other half lived.

Even as the saddest day must come at length to its close, so, too,

AMONG THE DOGS FOUR WERE FIRM FRIENDS

does the happiest night reach its end. In the midst while the dogs were worshiping came a breeze to the mount with its message:

"Dawn is well on its way. Scatter or it will find you!"

Scarce had the breeze blown on when the dogs were speeding homeward. Dawn overtook them not on the Mount of Many Barks, but well on their way to their own doorsteps.

Next: "Wander Comes Through Clear."

October 25, 1926.

Dear Brother Lion:

Tuesday is our monthly business meeting and there are many things requiring club attention. Be sure and come. Do not bring any guests this week if you can avoid it.

As usual we will dismiss you at 1:15. We'll have a song or two besides a good dinner.

Cordially yours,

SHOOT-AS-SHOOT-CAN NEGROES HAVE GUN DUEL AFTER SESSION OF CRAPS

ROCHESTER, Pa., Oct. 25.—William "Speakeasy" Johnson, 22, and Henry "Cooncan" Butler, 38, negroes, of this place, are in the Rochester General hospital as a result of a shooting affray that grew out of a quarrel over a crap game.

According to the police, an argument started and Butler is alleged to have taken two shots at Johnson as he went through the front door. In the street Johnson paused and drew his revolver to return Butler's fire. A bullet from Butler's revolver struck him in the leg and Johnson fired, the bullet lodging in Butler's leg. Butler retaliated by shooting Johnson again, this time in the abdomen. Johnson's friends then took a hand and rushed Butler into the river, where he was found early this morning, weak from loss of blood.

ANOTHER AUTOMOBILE IS STOLEN SATURDAY

C. L. Leathers of 347 East North street, reported to the police Saturday that his Ford roadster, 1925 model, Pennsylvania license C 30-713 had been stolen that evening, while parked in front of his home. The police are making every effort to locate the missing machine.

Pittsburgh Gridders Fail To Halt Locals

New Castle High Flashes Fast Attack To Annex Fifth Grid Victory Of Season Saturday Afternoon; Visitors Fight In Third Quarter And Hold Red And Black Team Scoreless; Sherer Features Rather Listless Game With Dash of 40 Yards For Touchdown In Final Quarter; Richards Goes Over For First Touchdown With Game in Infancy; Red And Black Team Uses Straight Football To Take Victory From "Dukes"; Klaber, Harper And Richards Star; "Peg" Thomas Back In Old Position; Robinson At Center Tower Of Strength.

By "BUGS" WALTHER

New Castle High unleashed a powerful scoring eleven here Saturday that roamed the greensward of Ben Franklin High stadium almost at will, scored six touchdowns and crushed the Duquesne University High team of Pittsburgh under a score of 39 to 0. It was the fifth victory of the season for the locals.

It was a New Castle machine of surprising power that toppled the "Little Dukes", its real power apparent even in the face of but little opposition from the invaders. The Red and Black warriors displayed superior weight, speed and experience and smothered every attempt on the part of the Duquesne team to gain ground through a stonewall defense. Robert Sherer, a substitute heretofore unheralded, furnished the feature play of the game late in the final quarter when he grabbed a Duquesne forward pass and raced 40 yards through a broken field for a touchdown.

"Dukes" Put Up Battle.

The Duquesne university high team fought a valiant fight against rather heavy odds, and for a light fast aggregation Coach William Burns has a mighty well balanced eleven. The visitors were no match for the powerful New Castle team, if anything they stepped out of their class in tackling a team the calibre of the locals, but the "Little Dukes" didn't lack for fight and they were still in the game when the battle ended.

New Castle high's offensive ability can best be determined by the fact that they secured 18 first downs for a total of 180 yards against 20 yards for two first downs for the Duquesne boys. New Castle high was penalized 15 yards for off-side play, and the visitors drew the same number of penalties.

Richards Scores Touchdown.

It was just a case of a good big team pitted against a light fast team. New Castle high outweighed the Pittsburgh aggregation several pounds to the man. Time and time again the Duquesne backfield smashed the Red and Black line only to be stopped without a gain.

Captain Harry Robinson won the toss of the coin and elected to receive at the northern goal. Walsh kicked off for the "Dukes" and Harper returned the ball 10 yards before being brought to earth. New Castle high with Sillman, Klaber and Richards carrying the ball in succession started a parade to the goal line. Harper took the ball to the five-yard line on a tackle play and Richards skimmed over on the next play for the first touchdown of the game. Sillman failed to kick the goal and New Castle took a 6 to 0 lead.

Duquesne Threatens.

Robinson, following the first touchdown, kicked off to Monahan, who returned the ball 15 yards through a broken field, giving the fans an inkling that the visitors had a fast attack, but the "Dukes" were stopped on the next two plays and forced to kick to New Castle. The Red and Black team carried the ball from mid-field to the 1-yard line as the whistle ended the first quarter. New Castle 6, Duquesne 0.

Klaber, the Titian haired halfback, who displayed brilliant form in the early stages of the game, was called on to take the ball over the line at the start of the second quarter and the West Side youngster responded in his usual fashion by hitting center for the count. Sillman kicked the goal after touchdown and the score stood New Castle 13, Duquesne 0. Smith was sent in for Richards at this period in the game.

Captain Robinson again kicked off to the Duquesne team with Flannigan, who had replaced Walsh, grabbing the pigskin and scurried back 25 yards before Millison brought him to the ground. The visitors lost the ball on downs in mid-field, their everything thrust at the powerful New Castle line being stopped. With Smith, Harper and Klaber alternating at carrying the ball for short gains of from five to eight yards the New Castle team again carried the ball within the shadows of the coveted goal line and this time Smith was called on to carry the ball over the chalked line. Sillman failed to kick the goal. The score now stood New Castle 19, Duquesne high 0. Turk replaced Sillman and Sandifer took up the guard job held by "Red" McIntosh. McIntosh, a sophomore, started his first varsity game and the youngster shows promise of developing into a mighty valuable lineman.

Robinson again kicked off to the visitors and the ball rolled over the goal line and was put in play on the 20-yard line. Sandifer recovered a Duquesne fumble on the 23-yard line. Kirk, who had taken Robinson's place at center, made a bad pass and New Castle lost about 15 yards. New Castle was held for downs within the 30-yard line. The "Dukes" opened up with a couple of forward passes but they were incompleted and New Castle high had the ball in their possession in mid-field when the first half ended. The score, New Castle 19, Duquesne high 0.

Third Quarter Hard Fought.

The Duquesne university high team after the usual breathing spell at the half returned to the game with a determined effort and New Castle high was stopped cold in everything they tried to execute. Klaber broke away for a 25-yard run through a broken field for the longest advance of the quarter. New Castle carried the ball to the 28-yard line and lost it on downs. Klaber punted to the 3-yard line and the "Dukes" attempted to kick out of danger but the kick was poor and went only about 30 yards with Turk taking the ball and skimming back to the 24-yard line. New Castle high had the ball on the 20-yard line as the whistle ended the third quarter. The score stood New Castle 19, Duquesne 0.

George "Peg" Thomas, last year's varsity fullback, who has held down a line job this year due to an injury to his leg, was injected into the fray at this point in place of Tommy Harper. Smith and Turk carried the ball to the 8-yard line and Thomas plunged through for seven more yards, placing the ball on the 1-yard line. The Duquesne team rallied and stopped three attempts by the New Castle backfield men to cross the line, but Turk carried the ball over on the fourth play for a marker. Turk failed to kick the goal. The score stood New Castle 25, Duquesne 0.

Dickson Tallies.

McGrath and Christman were replaced by Burns and W. Mott at this point, Christman suffering an injury on the kick-off. Dickson replaced "Peg" Thomas at fullback. New Castle high began another march to the goal line with the second string backfield working in perfect running order. Dickson plunged over the line for the fifth touchdown, and Sillman, who had replaced Klaber, kicked the extra point. The score, New Castle 32, Duquesne 0.

With the fourth and final quarter waning, Sherer, who had taken Mooney's place at left guard, grabbed a Duquesne forward pass on the 40-yard line and made his way through the entire visiting team for the sixth touchdown. It remained for Sherer to give the crowd its first real thrill of the afternoon and the youngster is deserving of a lot of credit for his clever running after grabbing the pigskin. Sillman man added another point via placement and the score stood New Castle 39, Duquesne 0. The game ended shortly after Sherer negotiated his touchdown with New Castle in possession of the ball on the 45-yard line.

To attempt to pick out any individual star on the New Castle high line Saturday would be folly on the part of the writer. The entire team played the kind of football that brings victories. The New Castle linemen, regulars and substitutes alike, displayed an impregnable defense and the "Dukes" found the sledding mighty difficult. Captain Robinson, all-scholastic center in 1925, proved a tower of strength on the line and at center until replaced by Kirk. Robinson is regarded as one of the finest roving centers in high school circles in this part of the state.

Polish University Of Cambridge Springs Fall Easy Victims

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 25.—The Grove City College yearling football team defeated the Polish University of Cambridge Springs here Saturday, 33 to 0, in the first game of their schedule. He gave the fans a thrill when he intercepted a forward pass in the third quarter and ran 70 yards for a touchdown. The Polish team was unable to get under way. They failed to make a first down and were able to advance the ball only by punting. Grove City substituted liberally, every second-string man getting a chance in the game. The line-up:

Union High Wins From Salem High

Local High School Team Defeats Ohioans On Home Grid, 14-0

The Union High football team trudged through a sea of mud Saturday, Oct. 25, at Salem, to place the husky lads on the small end of a 14-0 score.

Honors go to Coach Burnham's boys when it comes to features of the game, they having long runs to their credit. Those made by Schiek and Kellar counted for touchdowns. The score would have been 12-0, Union failing in both points after touchdown, had Reck not recovered the ball for Union beyond the Salem end zone, making the extra two points.

Keller, Schiek and Carr made fine runs for the Union backfield, while with Annarella missing from their line, Wochner, Hughes and Hoffmaster fought a hard game on both offense and defense. Litty played the best game for the losers. Twice during the game Union worked the ball to the one-yard line, but Salem held like a stonewall.

Line-up:

Union		Salem
Reck	L.E.	Harwood
Chill	L.T.	Guilford
Bender	L.G.	Judge
Wochner	C.	Dening
Hoffmeister	R.G.	Tolerton

Funkhouser	R.E.	Pasco

TECH'S VICTORY PROVES SURPRISE

Plaid Eleven Outsmart Pitt Panthers And Register Victory

Carnegie Tech staged the unexpected Saturday afternoon and the Pitt Panthers had their claws clipped and Tech holds the grid title of Pittsburgh. The score was 14-0.

Pitt played as good football as they could with the material they had. The Panther was also opposing a team that was ever on the alert and took advantage of every break.

Many, at center, was accurate in his passing; Goodwin showed good interference, and Harpster's passing and kicking were good. Bill Donohue is credited with winning the game.

DAY REGISTERS GAINS FOR KISKI

Ralph Day, former New Castle High grid star, played a brilliant game for Kiski Saturday, Kiski winning from Penn State Freshmen, 31 to 0. According to accounts of the game, Day carried the ball for big gains and McMurdo at end played a fine game.

The longest run to touchdown from scrimmage in "Big Three" games, 90 yards, was made by Slagle of Princeton against Yale in 1925.

Locals Start Pointing For Schenley Game

Coach Bridenbaugh Switches Order—Will Stage Practice Today

PITTSBURGH TEAM IS RATED HIGH

By "BUGS" WALTHER.

Coach Phil H. Bridenbaugh is not taking any chances on the Schenley High conflict. Today being Monday and usually a holiday for the high gridders after a victory Saturday meant nothing to the mentor.

The New Castle High team will drill at the Franklin High stadium tonight and every night this week. The boys are called on to meet Schenley High of Pittsburgh at the local field Saturday and they will be in condition if the plans of the coach work out as smoothly as they have been planned.

Schenley High will bring a team to this city Saturday that is rated as one of the strongest Schenley High squads in recent years. The Pittsburghers point with pride to their defeat of Turtle Creek Union 20 to 7 and their sweeping victory over Fifth avenue as evidence that they have a first class aggregation of pigskin artists.

New Castle High has sailed along on rather serene waters for the past few weeks and have hung up five victories but they are due for a battle Saturday and no mistaking that fact for hamburger.

BROWN WINS FROM BULLDOG

Tuss McLaughry's Coaching Leads Brown To 7-0 Victory Over Yale

Flashing unexpected and power, Tuss McLaughry's Brown eleven set the east aflame Saturday by defeating Yale 7 to 0 at New Haven. The victory upset all expectations and credit for Brown's sensational victory is handed to the former Westminster grid star and coach.

Brown's score came in the first period from a 72 yard drive that gave Al Cornsweet a chance to plunge over the Eli goal and after that Brown outfought and outplayed Elie who a week before had conquered Dartmouth.

Yale's air attack and rushing tactics were stopped completely and the Bulldog was forced to take medicine of their own kind. It was an air attack that featured largely in Brown's touchdown and a defense led by Captain Broda and Guard Farber completely checked Yale's most persistent efforts to score.

Haskell Institute, the largest Indian school in the United States, expects to entertain 10,000 Indians from all parts of the country on the occasion of the dedication of its new athletic plant on October 30. A football game between Haskell and Bucknell college will be the big event of the day.

Says Harvard Team To Play Better Ball

By NORMAN E. BROWN

There comes to me from an eastern friend a letter in which said friend states his belief that Harvard's eleven is not as weak as the early season games, up to the Dartmouth struggle at least, would indicate. He winds up his chatty missive with the remark that he would like to have "the short end" of some Yale and Princeton money. Now beat that for consummate nerve.

"Horween has instilled plenty of football into the Harvard team," he writes. "He has been working literally night and day with members of the squad. He has not devoted as much time to the business of developing a perfect football machine for immediate use as others might but the results of his teaching have cropped out in these games in which lack of well pointed plays and perfect defense have spelled Harvard's ruin.

"Now he is putting the wheels of his machine together. From now on the Harvard team will play better football. And with the football 'brains' Horween has injected into the team the mechanical play, once he turns his full attention to that, will surprise the wise boys.

"Horween is after permanent results at Harvard. He has his heart set on building up a winning system at Cambridge—even if he does not continue as head coach long enough to see the actual results. He is strong enough to accept the criticism the early defeats drew in carrying out his plans to achieve the end at which he aims."

Now there is nothing wild about this view of my jolly friend. Horween knows football from the playing and coaching end. He took up his Harvard duties this fall knowing quite clearly the trouble at Harvard. It lay mostly in the lack of "class work"—the instilling of sound football principles and play in the minds of the squad. Not since Percy Haughton left Harvard has there been an attempt to make football a "study."

Haughton's successors centered their efforts on the mechanics of the game. When the games ran according to Hoyle the team usually won. But the men, as a whole, lacked resourcefulness. Horween is trying to make of every football player a personality on the team—a man who can take the game into his own hands and carry through a logical move at the opportune time under any exigency.

Of course Yale, right now, stands out as one of the strongest teams in the East. There seems to be a wide gap between the caliber of the Harvard and Yale elevens. Princeton, however, has been trounced. The Tiger eleven is a powerful one—on paper—but some say it is tradition with Roper that his best teams are his poorest.

The closing weeks of Harvard's schedule will give us a better line on Mr. Horween's achievement. But not a clear one, at that.

Lutherans Win By Touchdown

Danny McDonald Scores Touchdown And Prevents Battle Going To Deadlock

GREENVILLE, Pa., Oct. 25.—Danny McDonald of Thiel saved the Lutherans from playing a deadlock with Duquesne Saturday by scoring a touchdown in the second quarter of a stubborn grid conflict.

A blocked punt from Duquesne was recovered by Goodwin on the Dukes' six-yard line and a dash around right end by McDonald, quarterback, spelled defeat for the Dukes and Captain Douds added the extra point from placement.

Thiel took the field minus Coach Holleran, who lies stricken with appendicitis at his home here. Jack Stober, former Springfield star and assistant mentor of the Blue and Gold, ran the squad in Dr. Tommy's absence and directed matters very creditably, indeed.

The Lutherans, though unable to gain consistently at any stage of the fracas, were none the less incessantly on the alert for every opening offered, a fact which, as may be gleaned from the foregoing paragraph, bagged victory for them from a team that displayed superior power in its driving attack, but lacked the break that would have made an even contest of the affair.

The lineup:

Thiel 7		Duquesne 0
Dufford	L.E.	Fackiner
Bliston	L.T.	Tracey
Rogers	L.G.	Maslowski
Heundel	C.	Prokopovitz

Methodists Win Over St. Francis

Has Easy Time Running Up Score Of 34 To 0 In Grid Game At Meadville

MEADVILLE, Pa., Oct. 25.—St. Francis furnished a good workout for Allegheny Saturday, the Methodists winning easily 34 to 0. In the third period Gillis' 65-yard return of a St. Francis kickoff was the feature play of the game.

Allegheny's line and backfield functioned in unison and the Methodists were not compelled to dig into a bag of tricks to win. An aerial play was seldom used.

Allegheny's first touchdown came on the third play of the game. Gillis returned the kickoff to the 29-yard line and then made three yards at right end. Brendel's run of 45 yards placed the ball on the St. Francis 23-yard line from which point Gillis carried it through left tackle for the score. The second touchdown was bucked across by Brendel immediately after the second period opened, while in the third quarter Gillis and Waleski registered, Gillis by means of his 65-yard run from kickoff and a 19-yard run around right end. A long forward pass placed the ball in position for the final touchdown.

Coach Merritt substituted and resubstituted his entire squad, 28 players taking part in the fray. Gillis and Brendel provided the best offensive work, while Acting Capt. Behrhorst was the most consistent player defensively. The lineup:

Allegheny 34		St. Francis 0
N. Kinnunen	L.E.	Boyle
Anna	L.T.	Steele
Billings	L.G.	Statniski

Penn State Teams Face Penn And Pitt

STATE COLLEGE, Pa., Oct. 25.—Ancient rivalries with the University of Pennsylvania and University of Pittsburgh will be renewed next Saturday when Penn State soccer and cross country teams journey to the homes of their respective rivals. The Nittany booters will meet the red and blue for the first time since 1918 while the Pitt cross country meet is an annual affair.

The latter will see both varsity and freshman harriers in action against the Panthers. Last year, Penn State won both races over the local course but they will be harder pushed to win over the Schenley park course this week. The varsity showed real ability against Syracuse yesterday but the yearlings have had no meets to date.

The soccer battle with Penn is attracting keen interest. The Lions have made a wonderful record in soccer over the past eight years while Penn has held the intercollegiate title for many seasons. If the Nittany booters can win from their Philadelphia rivals it will be a distinct feather in their cap.

SLIPPERY ROCK NORMAL WINS

St. Vincents College Drops Game Six To Nothing

LATROBE, Pa., Oct. 25.—St. Vincent's College lost to Slippery Rock Normal in the College field here Saturday, 6 to 0, Krueger intercepting a forward late in the final period and running 50 yards for the only points of the game. The game was closely contested from start to finish, the winners scoring six first downs to their opponents' four. The Bearcats had several chances to score, but Slippery Rock always braced as their goal was threatened and snatched victory by the break in the fourth quarter.

The defense play of the losers completely outclassed the teachers, but they lacked the offensive punch, the weight of the normalites being too much for the lighter St. Vincent line. The line-up:

St. Vincent		Slippery Rock
Lanzaretta	R.E.	Marmen
Ortner	R.T.	Fee
Gratz	R.G.	Taylor
O'Donnell	C.	Sager
Spries	L.G.	Ralston

Modern Trojans — By Feg Murray

Copyright, 1926, by Metropolitan Newspaper Service

Twenty-three hundred years ago the ancient Trojans played football, along with the Athenians and Spartans. For the last quatrer of a century a team in southern California has been playing football under the nickname of "The Trojans", and they have fought as skillfully and as valiantly as the warriors who defended the city of Troy so many years ago.

Trojan athletics, representing the University of Southern California, traveled East to win the intercollegiate track and field championship the last two years. And now another Trojan band, called by Knute Rockne "the finest football material I have ever seen", is cutting a wide swath to gridiron fame on the Pacific coast, playing a schedule of ten games, and with a coach who is only in his second year at the helm.

There are football schedules—and there is U. S. C.'s. What eastern team, for instance, would take on opponents of the caliber of California, Oregon Aggies, Idaho, Montana and Notre Dame in a row? No rest for the weary there! And please notice that the Trojans played their first game on September 25th (and, incidentally, Whittier is the only "set-up" on the schedule) and their last game is on December 4th!

This last game, by the way, with Rockne's famous "Ramblers", will be one of the feature intersectional battles of the year. And so far, U. S. C. has never failed to defeat a mid-western or Eastern opponent who came to Los Angeles to play them.

The "Thundering Herd", as the Trojans also are called, have a marvelous array of backfield material. Besides Bob Lee, the kicker shown above, there is Morton Kaer, a member of the 1924 Olympic team, and leading point scorer in the country last fall; Morley Drury, who would be a star on any team; Manual Laraneta, Don Williams, Lloyd Thomas and Howard Elliott.

You will hear much of these Trojans before the season is over!

Rush For Hunting Licenses Expected

County Treasurer David Nessle reports that up until the present time 2,200 hunting licenses have been issued. As the rabbit and quail season opens on November 1, it is expected that there will be a great rush to secure licenses this week. The number of hunters licensed so far this year is not quite up to the number issued last year.

Reveals Strength Of Reserve Corps

(International News Service)

NORFOLK, Va., Oct. 25. — The Reserve Corps of the army today contains more officers available for military service than were included in the entire overseas strength at the time of the armistice, eight years ago, Maj. Gen. John L. Hines, chief of staff, today told the fifth annual convention of the Reserve Officers' Association in session here.

WIFE KILLED, HUSBAND SERIOUSLY HURT WHEN TRAIN STRIKES AUTO

PARKERSBURG, W. Va., Oct. 25.—Mrs. A. D. Hudkins of Canton, O., was killed instantly and her husband suffered possible fatal injuries when their automobile was struck by an express train on the Baltimore and Ohio at Porterfield O., five miles from here at noon Sunday.

One of the reasons why George Burns was named the most valuable player in the American league for 1926 was that the Cleveland first baseman made 64 two-base hits during the season, thus setting up a new major league record.

Grove City Meets Allegheny Next Saturday Afternoon

GROVE CITY, Pa., Oct. 25.—Football interest has been rather low at Grove City for the past three weeks because the crimson team has been playing so far away from home that the supporters of the team could not see the games. The annual clash with Allegheny college next Saturday however has revived interest and the campus is again buzzing with football enthusiasm. Contrary to reports from the Meadville college, Grove City can see the game in no other light than that the odds are in favor of Allegheny. Not only have the blue and gold players demonstrated their ability in the earlier games of the season but the crimson players will be up against a system of play which is almost entirely new to this section. Every football fan in the country knows the effectiveness of the Dartmouth system of play which has been introduced at Allegheny.

The greatest thing in Allegheny's favor is the fact that Grove City beat the Methodists so decisively last fall. In a talk to the student body after the game Athletic Director Thorn warned the players that the coming season would be a much harder one for them than the one they had just passed through so successfully. Grove City fans and players alike can not enter the game next Saturday without a pretty well satisfied opinion of themselves because of the victory last fall and the championship which came with it. Allegheny fans and players on the other hand, will enter the game with the sting of last fall's defeat spurring them on to fight desperately against the team which took away their championship title last season. If Grove City may hope to win next Saturday's important game there must be a more serious attitude toward the game during the next few days than is being displayed about Grove City at the present time.

Wimberley To Resume Coaching

DETROIT, Oct. 25.—A. B. Wimberley former Washington and Jefferson star lineman and veteran coach and Detroit busines man has signed a contract as coach of the freshman squad of the University of Detroit. He succeeds John (Bunny) Barrett.

Wimberley starred as guard and tackle at W. and J. in 1914-17, inclusive and captained the 1916 team. After graduation he became coach of Westminster college, New Wilmington, Pa., head coach of Illinois Wesleyan and coach at Washington University, St. Louis. He retired from coaching a few years ago to become manager of a manufacturers agency in Detroit. As he was still interested in athletics he was induced to give part of his time to baseball this fall by Athletic Director Charles E. Dorais an old friend.

Paul Hraenor former Gonzaga University guard and assistant freshman coach last year will be Wimberley's assistant this year.

Illinois To Play Penn On Saturday

(International News Service)

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Oct. 25.—Bob Zuppke began working today to figure out some kind of a defense for the mysterious "hidden ball" offense of Pennsylvania. Assistant coaches Olander and Rokusek returned yesterday from Philadelphia and reported that the Ben Franklins strategem was as baffling as newspaper reports declared.

The Illini still bank on "Frosty" Peters as a drop kicker and predict that his toe will be a big factor in the Penn game. Peters, they point out, did not have a real chance to show his stuff Saturday at Ann Arbor where all his tries were from the 40-yard line or farther back, against a wind.

Pennsylvania will invade the west in full strength. The Ben Franklin's have requisitioned 3,000 tickets and will bring several special trains.

Princeton Still Nourishes Hopes, For There's Still Gentle Harvard

Princeton's defeat at the hands of the Navy and the marked success of Tad Jones' team at Yale have not entirely disheartened Princeton graduates, although they had hopes of a biggger year. Photos show three of the Tiger stars who hope to get a measure of revenge against Harvard if against no other team. Upper photo is of Bartell, center; middle photo, Baldwin, guard; lower photo, Darby, tackle.

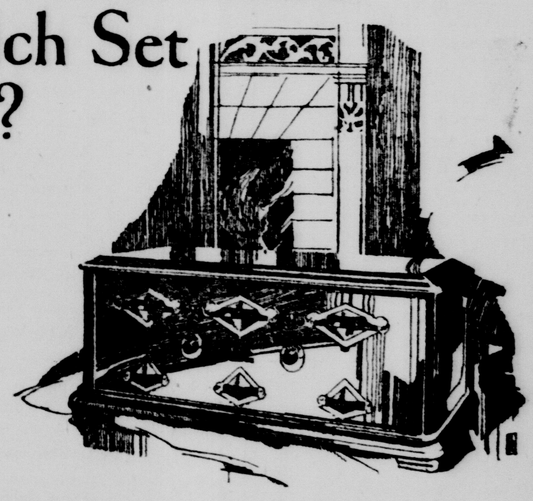
Will Price or Performance Decide Which Set You'll Buy?



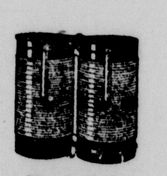
You get exactly what you pay for. Performance, which gives true radio satisfaction, is not on the bargain counter. If performance guide you, you will have no regrets.

COMPARE Grebe reception with that of other sets; and don't buy until you do! Note the tone quality, the range, the selectivity, the ease with which low-wave stations are separated and tuned, the volume of distant as well as local stations.

There are very definite reasons why the Synchrophase excels in all these respects — exclusive Grebe developments, three of which are illustrated below.

In addition, with the Grebe Flexible Unit Control you have a one, two, or three-dial controlled set at will; the Dial Light makes the tuning dial visible in dark corners; the Protective Fuse protects B batteries against defective tubes.

And back of it all is the Grebe name, standard of quality for over seventeen years.



Binocular Coils Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. get the desired station; shut out the others.

Come—hear the Synchrophase. That will tell you more than we can in a page advertisement. No obligation to buy.

The GREBE SYNCHROPHASE

TRADE MARK REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.

The Synchrophase is also supplied with battery base.

All Grebe apparatus is covered by patents granted and pending.

Colortone Reg. U. S. Pat. Off. gives you control of tone quality independent of the loud speaker.

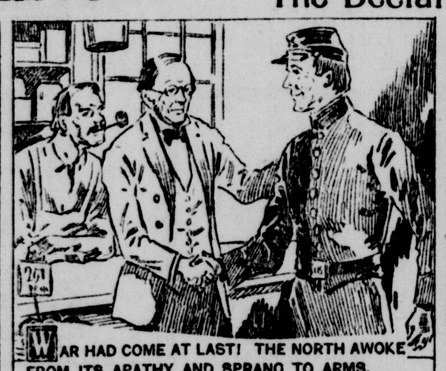
THE BOMBARDMENT OF FORT SUMTER BEGAN THE CIVIL WAR. ON THE DAY AFTER THE FORT SURRENDERED (APRIL 15, 1861), PRESIDENT LINCOLN ISSUED A PROCLAMATION ASSERTING THAT THE LAWS OF THE UNITED STATES WERE OPPOSED IN SOUTH CAROLINA, GEORGIA, ALABAMA, FLORIDA, MISSISSIPPI, LOUISIANA AND TEXAS "BY COMBINATIONS TOO POWERFUL TO BE SUPPRESSED BY THE ORDINARY COURSE OF JUDICIAL PROCEEDING." HE CALLED ON THE STATES OF THE UNION FOR 75,000 SOLDIERS AND ORDERED ALL PERSONS CONCERNED IN THIS OUTBREAK TO DISPERSE WITHIN TWENTY DAYS.



WAR HAD COME AT LAST! THE NORTH AWOKE FROM ITS APATHY AND SPRANG TO ARMS. MOST OF THE MEN IN THE NORTHERN STATES HAD NOT CONCERNED THEMSELVES WITH THE SLAVERY QUESTION AND WERE WILLING THAT THE SOUTH SECEDE IN PEACE. BUT THE INSTANT THE "STARS AND STRIPES" WAS ATTACKED, THEY WERE ELECTRIFIED INTO IMMEDIATE ACTION.

EVERYWHERE, THROUGHOUT THE UNION, MEN CAME FLOCKING TO ANSWER THE PRESIDENT'S CALL. LINCOLN HAD ASKED FOR 75,000 MEN. MORE THAN 90,000 RESPONDED AND BY THE FIRST OF JULY THERE WERE OVER 300,000 UNITED STATES TROOPS UNDER ARMS.

LARGE CAMPS WERE ERECTED WHERE THE MEN FROM OFFICES, FARMS AND FACTORIES LEARNED TO BE SOLDIERS, WHILE THE STREETS OF THE GREAT NORTHERN CITIES, BRIGHT WITH THE NATIONAL COLORS, RANG WITH MILITARY MUSIC AND THE TRAMP OF MARCHING MEN.

Mrs. Wright Makes Statement Regarding Status Of Husband

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 25.—"Frank Lloyd Wright knew that I would never give him a divorce.

"I don't know what he told Miss Milanoff or what she 'understood' to be the situation but Mr. Wright certainly knew I never would divorce him.

"I've told him that many, many times."

This was Mrs. Miriam Noel Wright's reply to a statement of Olga Milanoff, arrested with Wright on Mann act charges in Minneapolis that Mrs. Wright "tricked" them.

"She told Frank she was going to get a divorce. She went to California and we believed she was going to free him at once" Miss Milanoff charged.

N. Y. STOCKS

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 25.—Speculative interest in Wall Street was largely concentrated on the Government's cotton crop estimate at the beginning of trading today. Both the cotton and the stock market slowed up during the first hour, the cotton exchange being closed for trading between 10:55 and 11:15 o'clock. Stocks also marked time in this period, with narrow trading in the industrial speculative leaders and fractional price changes in most of the stocks sold.

The Government's estimate of 17,454,000 bales was 400,000 above expectations. With the exception of the utility stocks and a few of the rubber and tire stocks, the trend of prices was downward.

Firmness in U. S. Steel Common was the feature of the industrial list. The stock was in good demand around 139, against last week's low at 133⅜, on market rumors that the directors grant an extra cash dividend to stockholders at their meeting tomorrow. Some of the independent steel shares reflected this strength of the market leader, Crucible and Bethlehem selling fractionally higher.

U. S. Rubber, Goodrich Fish and other rubber and tire stocks continued the rally which started near the end of last Friday's session, and the same was true of a number of the local traction and public utility stocks. May Department Stores led a moderate rally of the mercantile stocks.

WHAT'S ON MIND OF WOMEN VOTERS OF AMERICA THIS COMING ELECTION?

Home Town And Community Are First Interest Of Woman Voter

So Declares President Of American League Of Women Voters

By LILITH HALE,
(Special Correspondent Of The New Castle News)

WASHINGTON, D. C., Oct. 25.—What is going to happen in her home town rather than what is going to happen in Washington or Geneva is the concern of the woman voter who will go down to the polls to cast her ballot on November 2.

Women political leaders who have been in close contact with women voters throughout the country have found that they are this year thinking of local and state issues rather than national and international issues. This, they say, is also the tendency of the men voters, as is frequently the case in elections in which the presidency is not involved.

Miss Belle Sherwin of Ohio, president of the American League of Women Voters, who has been in close touch with women leaders in every state, Mrs. J. Borden Harriman of New York, who maintains a political salon in Washington frequented by Democratic and Progressive senators, and Mrs. Emily Newell Blair of Missouri, vice chairman of the Democratic National Committee, agree that, of course, one cannot generalize about women voters, but that all the evidence they have discovered shows that the women voter's mind is on what has already happened in her state, or what is likely to happen in the event of the election of a particular candidate.

It depends upon the individual woman voter's personal experience, upon the vital event which has made government real and actual to her, the way in which politics touches her personal life, just what will guide her vote, Miss Sherwin believes.

"If a woman has been allowed any responsible party position, particularly in a locality where there is a vigorous and well-matched struggle for control between two political parties, party loyalty is likely to determine her vote in the general elections, although in the primaries she is likely to choose her candidate on the basis of either one measure in which she is personally interested, or on the basis of the character of the candidate, Miss Sherwin says.

This loyalty to party is much more likely to arise from a real knowledge of the varying principles upon which the parties are based than most people suppose, Miss Sherwin has found.

Demand For Party History

"There is a continuous demand in our voters' schools for lectures and courses in party history and principles. Women are much more interested in the basic theories of government than most people think," she declares.

"Just what line this interest takes depends upon the immediate personal experience that has brought government home to her. If she has served on a jury, she studies the procedure of the courts. If she is a clerk or judge in an election, she learns the election laws, and she may have ideas about improving them. If political corruption has invaded her territory, she is likely to investigate thoroughly the comparative value of the direct primary and the convention system of nominations. She is usually convinced that the direct primary is the woman's chance to nominate.

"If a farm woman knows that the good roads which have brought her nearer to her neighbors and to the market for her farm products were made possible through Federal aid, or if a mother has been helped in the bearing and rearing of her child through the Sheppard-Towner Maternity Act, she is likely to study the whole principle of Federal aid to state enterprises," Miss Sherwin explains.

Miss Sherwin's conclusion that local issues dominate this campaign is drawn from the fact that the bulletins of state branches of the League of Women Voters coming to her desk indicate that the women voters are inquiring into state questions rather than into national or international questions. The only national issue of country-wide interest now is the continuation of the Sheppard-Towner, or Maternity and Infancy Act, Miss Sherwin says. Interest in the World Court, which was, Miss Sherwin believes, the main issue to women in the last election, has lagged.

While avoiding generalizations about women, Miss Sherwin believes that there is in woman a consciousness of responsibility and an urgency to make her vote effective which distinguishes her from other voters. There is no carelessness about her casting her ballot. She does not want it thrown out because of an error in marking.

Not Different From Men Voters

Mrs. Blair is even more thoroughly convinced of the fact that women are not different from men as voters.

"I once thought that women as voters were different from men as voters. But I don't think so any more. When women are partisan, however, they are usually more intensely partisan than men, but there are I believe, more independent women than there are independent men. This is because they are comparatively new voters. Men from childhood have been steeped in the idea that they were voting creatures, and have thus imbibed partnership more universally than have women," Mrs. Blair says.

"And one other thing differentiates women from men voters. They consider which party has done, or will do, the most for women politically. I have had Republican women tell me that they would vote the Democratic ticket if they were sure a Democratic president would appoint a woman to the cabinet—and I am sure a Democratic president would," she adds.

Mrs. Harriman points to her own state as an example of women's attention to local issues. In spite of the fact that the New York Senatorial and gubernatorial campaigns are being run on a semi-national basis, the women of New York, she has found, are more concerned about how their state government is going to be run than anything else. They are thinking of the reforms which have been begun under Governor Al Smith, but, in the case of the senatorial campaign, they are remembering that Senator James W. Wadsworth, Jr., has opposed the national issues they have favored, such as woman suffrage and the child labor amendment. But mainly they are identifying the senatorial candidate with Governor Smith, and their vote is being determined by whether or not they favor his state policies.

N. Y. Girls Chew Gum to Slenderize

Girls and young matrons who are beginning to "spread" and get fat may now make use of a new, simple method that is proving a valuable aid in keeping the figure trim and slender. They can use the plan now so popular in New York society. This new method consists of establishing proper eliminative regularity through the use of a harmless, tasteless ingredient originally discovered in Vienna. Reductions of several pounds a week are reported in many cases. It acts quickest when well chewed—hence it is embodied in a deliciously flavored chewing gum called "Slends". Local druggists have already arranged to supply this new medicated gum. Start to chew Slends today—you will note effects tomorrow.

A CLEAR COMPLEXION

Ruddy cheeks—sparkling eyes—most women can have. Dr. F. M. Edwards for 20 years treated scores of women for liver and bowel ailments. During these years he gave his patients a substitute for calomel made of a few well-known vegetable ingredients mixed with olive oil, naming them Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. Know them by their olive color.

These tablets are wonder-workers on the liver and bowels, which cause a normal action, carrying off the waste and poisonous matter in one's system.

If you have a pale face, sallow look, dull eyes, pimples, coated tongue, headaches, a listless, no-good feeling, all out of sorts, inactive bowels, you take one of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets nightly for a time and note the pleasing results.

Thousands of women and men take Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets—now and then to keep fit. 15c, 30c and 60c.

How I Dress My Hair
By Edna Wallace Hopper

The thousands who see me daily on the stage wonder at my beautiful hair. It is wavy, glossy and abundant. Nearly everyone thinks that some wonderful hair dresser gives it daily care.

Not so—I'm too busy for that. I never go to a hair dresser, have never had a Marcel wave. I simply apply twice weekly a hair dress which great experts made for me. It is not sticky, not greasy. Before they made it I never dreamed a liquid could do so much. Now all toilet counters supply it as Edna Wallace Hopper's Wave and Sheen. The price is 75c.

Nothing else I know gives a girl or woman so much added loveliness at once. No one can resist it when she knows. My guarantee is enclosed with every bottle, so it costs you nothing if it doesn't please. Go try it at my expense.
